

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

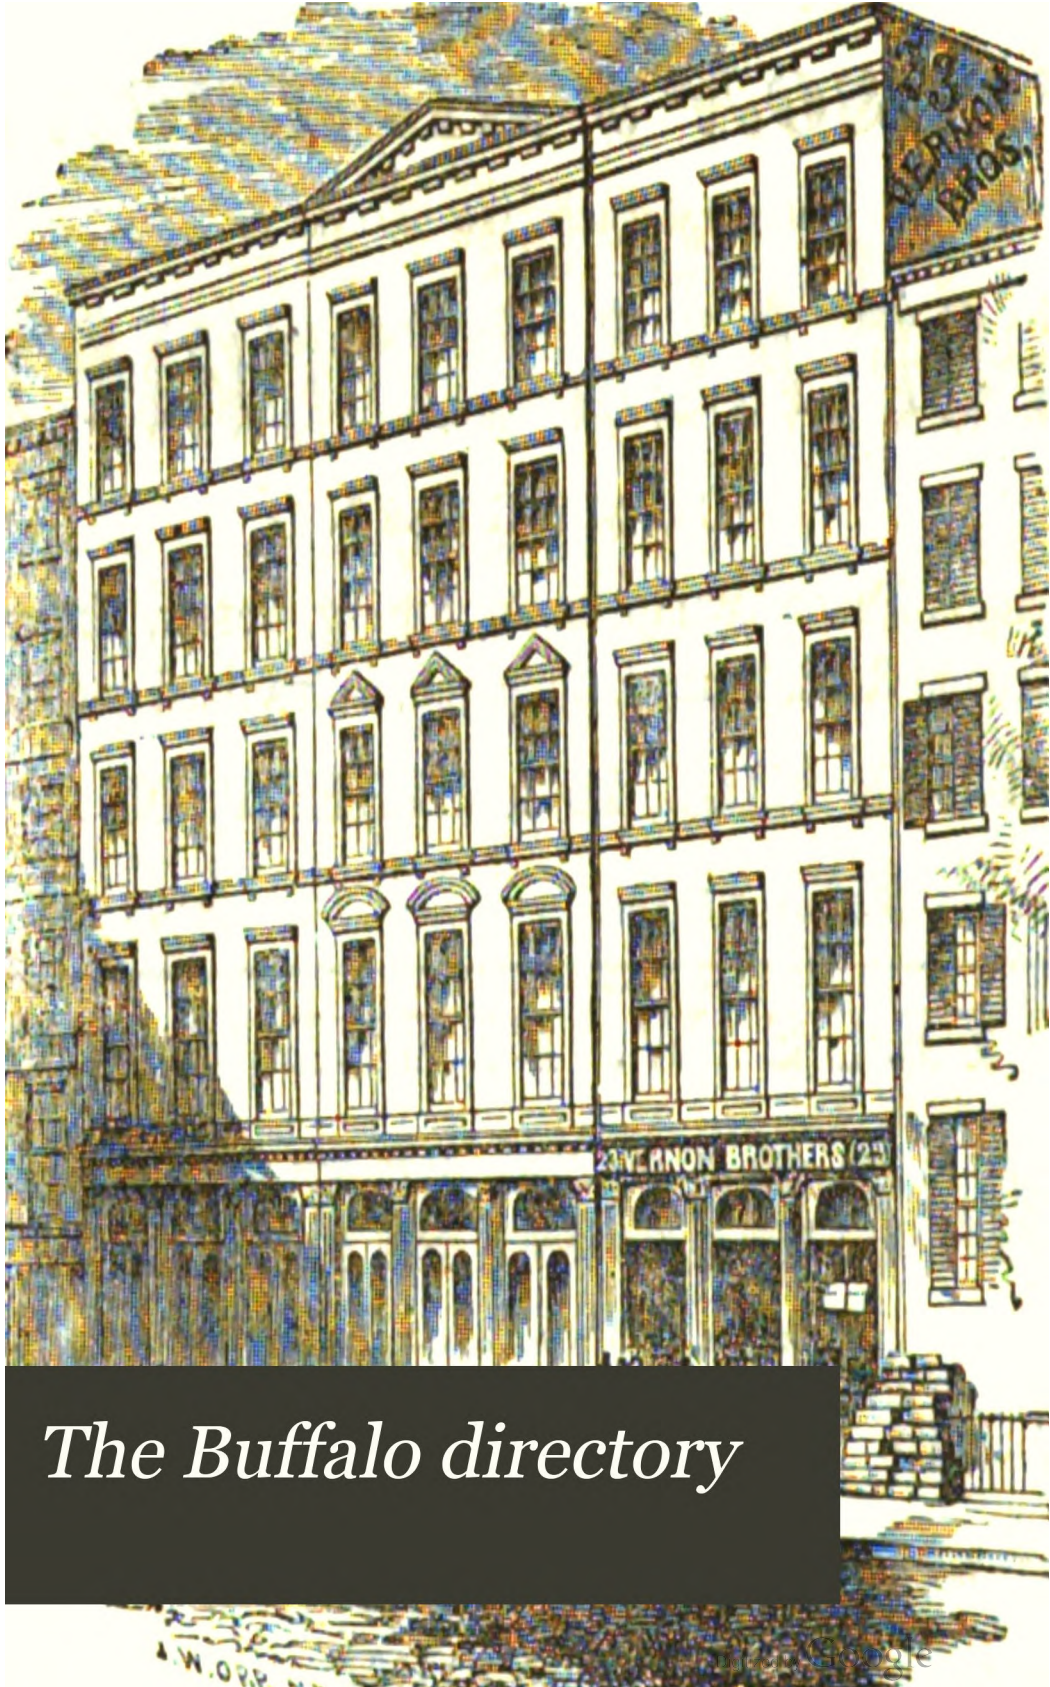

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

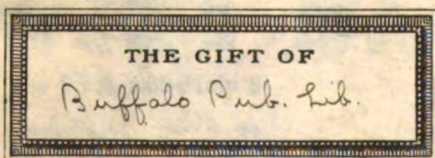

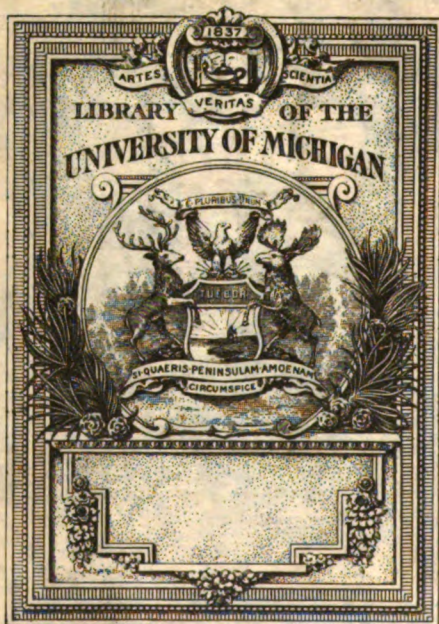

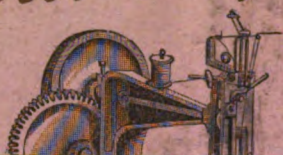

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. STATEMENT
OF THE
Trade and Commerce of Buffalo,
For the Year 1859.

STATEMENT

OF THE

TRADE AND COMMERCE OF BUFFALO

FOR 1859.

INTRODUCTORY.

The close of another year again brings with it our work of a retrospective examination into the business affairs of our city. As compared with 1858, we have made one or two valuable additions, not the least among which is a more accurate report of the live stock trade, accompanying which are elaborate tables showing the source of supply, &c., &c. We are also enabled to present a comprehensive statement monthly and otherwise, indicating the receipts of flour, grain, lumber, live stock and wool, by lake, from different States and Canada; in the compilation of all which we have bestowed the utmost care and attention. Our table of lake imports has been augmented by a large number of items which until now have been classed as "sundries." We also present a carefully prepared statement of the number, cost and location of buildings erected during the year, which is not without interest. In view of these facts, and several others equally important, which might appropriately be mentioned, we do not hesitate to say that the report is, in all respects, as perfect as any hitherto published. In form and method this work will not differ materially from others which have preceded it. Experience has taught us that the arrangement of the tables—the system adopted in putting the material together—is the most comprehensive, and however much we may admire variety in this respect, we have no disposition to disarrange a plan which has, for the past three years, met with such signal favor.

CITY MATTERS.

The mortality of a city, it will be conceded, is of the first importance, and in this connection we may say, without fear of contradiction, that the general health of Buffalo will bear favorable comparison with any other town of an equal number of inhabitants in the Union. This result is due to her elevated position and the liberal appropriations made in years past with a view to thorough sewerage and general cleanliness, together with equally important reasons, which we will not here enumerate.—The mortality of the city for the years indicated below, was as follows:

	Mortality each year.	Per cent. of whole.
1854.....	2,328	19 66
1855.....	1,850	15 64
1856.....	1,802	15 22
1857.....	2,276	19 23
1858.....	1,849	15 64
1859.....	1,732	14 62
Total.....	11,835	100 00

The average mortality for the five years closing on the 1st of January, 1859, is shown by the above to have been 2,020 3-5, an increase of 558 3-5 as compared with last year. Assuming the population of the city to be 100,000, the mortality last year was within a fraction of one in every 58 of the inhabitants.

The valuation of real and personal property within the limits of the city for 1859, as compared with 1858, shows a falling off of $1,702,335 in the former item, and $580,640 in that of the latter, being a decrease, in the aggregate, of $2,282,975.

ASSESSORS' VALUATION OF TAXABLE PROPERTY IN THE CITY OF BUFFALO, 1859.

	Real.	Personal.	Total.
First Ward.....	$3,92,315	$ 47,480	$3,975,765
Second Ward.....	3,225,375	1,073,070	4,298,445

Tenth Ward.....	2,734,400	257,400	2,992,200
Eleventh Ward.....	1,972,405	193,700	2,166,105
Twelfth Ward.....	1,299,810	65,000	1,364,810
Thirteenth Ward.....	957,880	11,000	968,880
	$27,743,945	$5,485,680	$33,229,625
1856.....	29,464,280	6,066,720	35,531,000
1857.....	29,367,791	8,123,770	37,491,561
1858.....	28,128,040	7,360,436	35,488,476
1855.....	27,323,919	5,713,792	33,037,711
1854.....	25,949,391	4,024,118	29,973,509

Estimating the market value of real and personal property in 1859 at 25 per cent. more than the amount assessed for, which any one will readily concede is reasonable, we have an aggregate value of $41,536,281. In connection with the above we also present a statement of the amount of annual tax and the annual expenditures since 1853, including the amount paid for the construction of market buildings in 1857 and 1858. Of the expenditures in 1857, $28,000 was obtained by issuing city bonds:

	Amount general tax.	Annual expenditures.
1854.....	$322,155 00	$313,660 68
1855.....	275,580 00	317,534 43
1856.....	10,900 00	336,79 50
1857.....	297,225 00	436,907 47
1858.....	233,777 25	375,414 18
1859.....	255,809 90

The expenditures for 1859, it will be seen, are not given, as the Comptroller's Annual Report is not issued until after the first of July of each year. This is to be regretted, inasmuch as we are unable to present many items of great interest. We are pleased to observe in this connection, that the Mayor in his inaugural message, recommended that it be presented earlier in the year.

The amount of funded debt as it existed on the 1st of January, since 1853, is as follows:

1854.....	$507,563 00
1855.....	507,563 00
1856.....	575,580 00
1857.....	553,791 00
1858.....	612,143 75
1859.....	665,000 00
1860.....	579,000 00

Below will be found the appropriations for a series of years. The first table exhibits the appropriations, including the school moneys, and the balances provided for the payment of principal and interest; the second table is similar to the first, excepting that it excludes the aforesaid balances; the third excludes both the balance and the school money.

	1st.	2d.	3d.
1854.....	$32,155 00	$322,155 00	$322,155 00
1855.....	370,480 00	349,480 00	334,480 00
1856.....	41,63 00	378,642 36	380,642 37
1857.....	442,503 00	391,998 84	367,698 84
1858.....	449,637 25	395,927 25	361,927 25
1859.....	387,466 90	345,309 90	312,479 90

The Street Commissioner, singularly enough, has no data by which he can inform us of the number of miles of located streets, paved do., sewers, sidewalks, crosswalks, or any other items likely to be of interest to the public.

The Fire Department was probably never in a more excellent condition than at present. The promptness with which our firemen respond to every call of duty, is a subject of public comment. There is now in the Department one Steam Fire Engine, eleven engines, five hose cars, two hook and ladder carts, worked by about seven hundred men. The following shows the expenses of the Department since 1853:

	Expenditures.	Appropriations.
1854.....	$2,493 66	$25,000
1855.....	15,896 78	15,000
1856.....	16,168 61	17,500
1857.....	18,336 59	18,000
1858.....	15,273 80	15,500
1859.....		15,125

The sum of twenty-six hundred and fifty dollars was paid from the estimates of 1859, for the hose purchased in 1858. The actual expense for 1859, for the current year, will not exceed $11,250.

We refer to the Schools of our city with feelings of just pride and pleasure. Under the workings of the broad and munificent basis upon which they are established, the humblest children of every nation are alike entitled to all the privileges and benefits derivable from a substantial common school education. We see daily evidences of the wisdom which originated and perfected a system which in its turn entails blessings upon thousands, and which are not to be measured by the mere standard of dollars and cents. Mr. WARREN, ex-Superintendent, furnishes us with the following statement of the expenditures and average attendance for a series of years:

	Expenditures.	Average No. Scholars taught.
1854.....	$96,143 71	6,672
1855.....	81,239 84	7,469
1856.....	86,733 64	6,916
1857.....	101,401 86	7,444
1858.....	119,773 17	6,255
1859.....	82,732 99	6,409

The total amount paid for salaries of teachers outside of the Central School, in 1859, was $71,548 53—an average of about $386 74 to each instructor, the number of teachers employed being 185. The average attendance of pupils last year was 6,409, an increase of 144 compared with 1858. The total valuation of school property is set down at $289,300.

Opinions have been frequently advanced within the last year or so, to the effect that the population of the city was on a rapid decline. The assertion, in view of the above significant figures, appears to have been entirely groundless. Aside from a thorough census, no better evidences of an increase or decrease in the population of a city like ours is to be found than by carefully noting the average attendance at the public schools. It will be admitted by all familiar with the subject, that the great bulk of the population in cities is largely made up of mechanics and laborers, who, with comparatively few exceptions, can ill afford to pay liberally for the education of their children, especially when the same can be obtained without money and without price. Here we have, as before remarked, an increase of 144 in the average attendance at our public schools over that of 1858, a fact abundantly sufficient to disprove all assertions to the effect that the population of Buffalo is constantly diminishing.

BANKS AND BANKING.

It cannot be denied that the Banking facilities of Buffalo are at times disproportionate to the aggregate of business presenting itself.—Especially is this true during the busy portion of the summer season. At such times, probably no other city in the Union is more in need of a banking house possessing at least twice the amount of capital of even the largest of those now located here. The want of it is a serious drawback to all classes of business men, but more especially to those whose paper is not of that order termed "gilt-edge;" and in this respect our banks fail to be of that benefit to a large portion of our citizens, with whose success the business and prosperity of our city is intimately associated and identified.

Locally, the money market at the opening of last year, was such as to excite but little comment, the supply and demand being about evenly balanced, with, perhaps, a slight tendency in favor of cash means. There was, apparently, a concerted movement on the part of business men throughout the month of February, to avoid credit as well as liabilities, which resulted in the disappearance of a class of paper that had been comparatively plenty during the previous month. The February dividends declared by banks, railroad corporations, insurance companies, &c., were of a respectable character, and eventually went far to restore a marked degree of confidence.

The month of March was characterized by nothing unusual. The demand for funds was not active, nor was there anything more than an ordinary supply of money offering.

In the early part of April every preliminary arrangement for the accommodation of commercial and mercantile interests were, for the season, brought to a good degree of perfection, and probably at no corresponding period in the commercial history of Buffalo was such an array of facilities presented for the economical transportation of property, and its expeditious movement. This state of affairs was brought about from the fact that the ruling prices for breadstuffs during the previous month secured the liberation of considerable amounts of grain held in store during the winter under advances made by our banks. The retiring of this paper was not made good by new offerings, consequently an accumulation of unemployed capital in most of the banks themselves was an unavoidable consequence under the then existing movement of trade. Before the close of the month, however, the season having arrived when all regular mercantile customers apply for their usual accommodation on short paper, transactions in money matters at our several banking houses were gradually increasing. Considerable stringency, nevertheless, existed on paper other than A. No. 1, the past experience of bankers having been such as to disturb their confidence in the soundness of their customers.

The foreign war news about the first of May, was such as to create a gratifying degree of buoyancy, and transactions at bank were of a character to compare favorably with the business of former years. This was attributable to an improvement in the flour and grain market, as well as the favorable advices relative to the new crop at the West.

On the first of June there appeared to be an increasing demand for money at bank, arising both from business wants and to meet maturing liabilities. Bankers, accordingly, found little difficulty in keeping their discount lines fully up to a point that called for all the funds which could safely be employed in that direction, while the rates of interest on all grades of business paper were fully up to the legal figure, and this improvement, as may readily be supposed, went far to secure a good degree of willingness on the part of capitalists to keep their funds fully employed. The six per cent loan of $18,000, awarded at the office of Messrs. Duncan, Sherman & Co., New York, on the 11th of this month, fell to one of our savings banks at an average of 94 1-4c., disclosing to our citizens the gratifying fact that the successful bids for this loan were sent from this city, thus speaking loudly for the strength of our institutions, and the confidence in the future of our locality.— There was, meanwhile, an entire absence of orders for Western currency, showing conclusively, thereby, the depressed state of trade throughout the Western country. The discount on Illinois and Wisconsin funds advanced rapidly from 1½ to 2, again to 2½, and lastly to 3 per cent., where it afterwards became fixed. The month closed with a supply and demand about evenly balanced, consequently but little complaint was heard of a scarcity of either paper or money.

There was an increased activity in the borrowing line, about the first of July. The aggregate of bills payable maturing on the 4th, was said to be unusually large, to meet which required a general movement among mercantile and commission houses. A very small amount of paper, however, found its way to protest, while the banks themselves had the satisfaction of knowing that the most stringent point for the current twelve months had passed. July dividends were numerously advertised by corporations other than railroads, and, as a general thing, were of a favorable character. By the close of the month, however, in not a few instances, borrowers found it difficult to obtain the necessary amount of money in order to a successful prosecution of their business, arising not so much from a lack of means, as from an increased degree of caution.

The month of August opened without developing any new monetary feature of importance, but by the 15th, bankers, contrary to the order of things in the latter part of July, found it difficult to keep their funds as actively and safely employed as could have been desired.

There was every indication in favor of an easy money market at the opening of September, and low rates of interest were expected to rule during the remainder of the season. Tones of buoyancy and encouragement came up from every direction. Application for accommodation at our houses of discount were, as usual in times of commercial activity, of such a character that bankers found no difficulty in keeping their discount lines full, and were, moreover, enabled to make selections from a desirable class of paper, both as regards security and shortness of dates. The demand for Canadian currency was at this time unusually active. During the last week in the month there appeared to be a scarcity of desirable paper offering, and the market was appropriately termed "easy."

October and November were marked by nothing of special monetary interest. At times there was a stringency at the West and ease at the East, then, again, in reversal of the order of things, curtailment was apparent at the East, while expansion ruled supreme at the West. A good local demand for money prevailed, however, especially during the latter part of October, and even up to the middle of November, so much so, in fact, that our discount banks were willing to receive $30,000 from one of our savings banks, and $25,000 from private bankers, at six per cent. interest. On the whole, the business of the banks is believed to have been as profitable as usual.

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT of the amount of Capital in the Banks of the city at the close of 1858 and 1859:

	1858.	1859.
Bank of Attica.....	$250,000	$250,000
Buffalo City Bank.....	277,700	138,850
Clinton Bank.....	250,000	250,000
Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank.....	150,000	150,000
International Bank.....	400,000	400,000

White's Bank.....	200,000	200,000
Totals.....	$2,622,700	$2,308,850

It will be seen by the above statement that the only changes in the banking capital are as follows: the Manufacturers' and Traders' Bank have increased their capital from $495,000 to $500,000; the Marine Bank shows a decrease of $100,000; and the Buffalo City Bank a decrease of $138,850, being just one half the capital they had in 1858; making a total decrease of $233,850. The Niagara River Bank, formerly located at Tonawanda, and more recently of our city, has moved to Lockport.

The foregoing statement shows in the aggregate a decrease in the department of loans, a decrease in specie, a decrease in circulation, and a large increase in deposits. In order to make this the more easily comprehended, we have prepared the following table in a condensed form, which shows at a glance the increase and decrease in the leading items, as shown by the Bank Statements for the quarter ending September 10th, 1859, as compared with that of December, 1858.

13,448 bbls in the amount consigned to the New York and Erie Road.

The source from whence our supply by lake was derived last season is as follows:

Ohio	426,761
Indiana	319,963
Michigan	304,013
Illinois	181,622
Wisconsin	160,963
Canada	36,691
Total	1,420,333

Of the aggregate receipts by lake, railroad and manufactured, there were used in the city and vicinity, shipped by different routes, and in store, at the close of the year, as follows:

Taken for consumption, bbls.	100,000
Shipped by canal to tide water.	162,290
" " the interior	58,196
In store at the close of the year.	40,000
In the hands of millers, about.	80,000
Consigned to the N. Y. Central R. R.	58,541
Consigned to the N. Y. & Erie R. R.	52,914
Shipped by ferry boats to Canada.	70,092
Shipped coastwise by lake.	9,123
Leaving as an additional amount shipped by the N. Y. Central N. Y. & Erie, and by team into the country	734,182

Total, equalling supply 1,812,338

As the Central Railroad Company do not permit any examination of its books, we are unable to state the amount shipped by that road, originally consigned to other parties, neither have we similar figures indicating the amount sent forward by the Erie Road. The amount in the hands of millers is an estimate, and intended to embrace the Black Rock flour. In order to show the sales, we put the figures in the following shape:

Manufactured to ship	510,140
Consigned through by railroad	688,455
In store at the close of the year	90,000
also reported in the Commercial report	247,288
Private and unreported sales, estimated	120,000
Shipped from here without sale	456,455

Total equal to supply 1,812,338

Nearly all the flour manufactured at Black Rock is shipped eastward. If any considerable amount of it changes hands here, but a small portion, comparatively, is reported, and our last entry, therefore, of the amount shipped from here without sale cannot be far from correct.

The actual reported sales since and including 1856, have been as follows:

1856, bbl's	251,700
1857, do	203,800
1858, do	375,400
1859, bbl's	217,288

At the opening of navigation, the stock of desirable brands was quite light, and the market ruled decidedly firm, but as soon as supplies began to come forward by lake prices were not so well maintained, but it was not until about the first of April that the market became absolutely dull. A fair speculative inquiry had prevailed previous to this period, but it now entirely subsided, and the second week in April was, perhaps, the duller of the season. The market continued to decline until about the first of May, when the war news from the other side of the Atlantic served to put up prices 10 a 15c on its first receipt, and afterwards 15 a 25c. During the third week in May, however, prices dropped away as rapidly as they had before advanced, and the month closed very quiet. During the forepart of June the market was decidedly buoyant, occasioned by the receipt of news to the effect that the crops had been cut off at the west and southwest by a severe frost. In Cleveland flour ruled 15 a 25c higher than in our own market, and considerable quantities were accordingly shipped thither from this port. It was not until about the first of July that any material falling off was apparent. From the middle to the close of the month, owing to a reported armistice between Austria and France, coupled with highly favorable reports relative to the new wheat crop, medium to good brands declined at least 50c per bbl in a single week, and in some cases even more. From this time to the close of the year, a gradual but steady decline was apparent from week to week, a result attributable to the increased quantity as well as quality of the new crop of wheat.

The following is a list of prices for medium to good extra flour once a week during the season of navigation for three years:

The flouring business of the city for 1859 shows a decrease as compared with 1858.

The following is a statement of the number of barrels turned out by each mill for four successive years:

	1856.	1857	1858.	1859.
Frontier Mill	28000	39000	44700	45000
Queen City Mill	6000	29000	56000	39000
Erie Mill	31629	47000	60000	60000
Niagara Mill	47728	52000	80000	64569
Canton Mill	15000	19000	26000	14200
Globe Mill	7000	16500	12000	1739
Buffalo City Mill	7675	775	6000	2641
Wadsworth Mill	17000	3200	3000	19000
Hydraulic Mill		1800	1600	1000
Webster Mill		1000
North Buffalo		1800	40000	36000
Total	178963	218035	336200	311140

As compared with last year, the Frontier Mills shows an increase of 300 bbls; the Queen City Mills a decrease of 6000 bbls; the Erie Mills a decrease of 6000 bbls; the Niagara Mills a decrease of 28,431 bbls; the Clinton Mills a decrease of 11,800 bbls; the Globe Mills an increase of 5839 bbls; the Buffalo City Mills an increase of 20,541 bbls; the Wadsworth Mills an increase of 15,000 bbls; the Hydraulic Mills a decrease of 500 bbls, and the North Buffalo Mills a decrease of 5000 bbls. The total decrease in the amount manufactured, as compared with 1858, amounts to 16,060 bbls.

The Webster Mills, formerly located on Van Rensselaer street, have, since our last annual report, been removed to Aurora. While here they turned out little beside feed and cornmeal.

The most noticeable feature in connection with the above figures is the very large increase in the amount turned out by the Buffalo City and Wadsworth Mills. Both of these establishments are run by steam, and both alike have the reputation of manufacturing the very best brands of double extra family flour. The Mills at Black Rock are also in excellent condition, and we doubt not that another year will witness a large increase in the flouring business of the city.

WHEAT.

Under the head of "Lake Commerce" may be found a statement of the receipts of this article by lake for a series of years. In 1858 and 1859 the receipts were as follows:

	1858.
Receipts by Lake	10,671,580
" by Buffalo & Erie R.R. (estimated)	25,000
" by Canal	8,515
" by Buffalo and Lake Huron railway before the opening of navigation	39,389
Total supply	10,744,484
	1859.
Receipts by Lake	9,434,632
" by Buffalo & Erie R.R.	24,882
" by Canal	100,404
Total supply	9,559,908

Compared with 1858 the total supply from all sources shows a falling off of 1,184,546 bu. The source of supply by lake last year was as follows:

Ohio	618,994
Indiana	951,802
Michigan	423,616
Illinois	4,348,255
Wisconsin	2,767,378
Canada	426,607
Total	9,434,632

The receipts of 1858 were larger than any other year in the history of Buffalo, and last year there was a decrease of only 1,184,546 bu. The amount received here by lake of the harvest of each year for five years is herewith given:

From Sept. 1st, 1854, to Sept. 1st, 1855, there were received of the crop of 1854	bu 4,006,540
From Sept. 1st, 1855, to same date 1856, of the crop of 1855	8,392,718
From Sept. 1st, 1856, to Sept. 1st, 1857, of the crop of 1856	8,392,719
From Sept. 1st, 1857, to Sept. 1st, 1858, of the crop of 1857	12,615,631
From Sept. 1st, 1858, to Sept. 1st, 1859, of the crop of 1858	6,343,450

The crop of 1858 is thus shown to have been only about half that of 1857, a result, by the way pretty generally anticipated, in view of the largely diminished receipts after the 1st of September in 1858. The receipts from the 1st of September to the close of navigation for the years named were as follows:

From 1st Sept., 1855, to close of navigation, there were received	bu 6,347,596
From 1st Sept., 1856, to the close	6,429,806
From 1st Sept., 1857, to the close	6,362,263
From 1st Sept., 1858, to the close	4,418,187
From 1st Sept., 1859, to the close	7,509,389

Taking these figures as a basis for our calculation the crop of last year must have been an extremely large one. We received from the 1st of September to the close in 1857, 6,362,263 bu. while the receipts at this port of the entire crop of 1857 were 12,615,631 bu. From the 1st of September to the close last year our receipts, as above, were 7,509,389 bu.; the reader may thus be enabled to form some opinion of the probable balance of last year's crop yet to come forward.

The disposition of the entire receipts last season was as follows:

Shipped by Canal to tide water	bu 3,287,482
" to the interior	2,890,586
" Lake coastwise	636,135
" ferry boats to Canada	184,812
Burned in City Elevator, Nov. 7	137,540
In store at the close of the year	636,135
Ground by city mills	1,550,760
Consigned by Lake to the Central R.R.	126,303
" to the N. Y. & Erie R.R.	40,230
Amount otherwise disposed of	80,096
Total equaling receipts	9,559,908

Taking the season together both the speculative and milling demand was quite active last year. The greatest activity prevailed during the fall months. The sales for four years have been as follows :

Sales reported in 1856.....bu	3,986,000
Sales reported in 1857.....	4,840,000
Sales reported in 1858.....	5,883,000
Sales reported in 1859.....	5,447,000

The market on the first of March ruled firm, but the demand was confined almost wholly to the wants of millers, who, by the way, were not purchasing to any great extent. By the middle of the month, however, more activity prevailed, resulting from an increased speculative inquiry and lots of spring and club of from 2,000 to 6,000 bu. each, changed hands pretty freely at from 95 cents to $1.00 for the former and $1.00a1.10 for the latter. Towards the close of the month, as lots began to come forward by lake the demand was sensibly diminished, buyers, on the one hand, contending that prices would soon come down to a point which would enable them to purchase, while holders on the other, maintained their usual firmness under the impression that the receipts were not likely to prove adequate to the demand. Nothing of moment was done until the third week in April. By this time small lots began to move off by canal and prices became a trifle easier. The war news of the 1st of May produced no small degree of excitement, and during two or three of the following weeks the market advanced some 20c for all descriptions. The heavy frost of the 5th of June also tended to render the market firm for several days, but by the 20th of the month prices had again fallen off to $1.12a1.16 for Chicago spring $1.20a1.25 for Milwaukee club and $1.55a1.60 for red winter. About the only noticeable feature in July was a scarcity of winter wheat and for this variety prices advanced about 5c, while other varieties remained comparatively steady. Nothing of special interest occurred during the month of August. Speculators, generally, were out of the market in consequence of the highly favorable advices relative to the new crop, several samples of which were received about the middle of the month. It was in all respects superior to the old one, and owing to its abundance, prices fell off rapidly after the 1st of September, and by the 26th of the month reached their lowest point. The demand during the balance of the season, as before remarked, was very active, the amount changing hands aggregating from 300,000 to 500,000 bu. per week. Speculation at times ran high, as is usual at this season of the year when buyers are purchasing largely on milling as well as speculative account. The following table exhibits the weekly variation in prices once a week for three years during the season of lake navigation:

NOTE.—The price from and including Sept. 5th is for the new crop.

CORN.

We refer the reader to a table under the head of "Lake Commerce" for a statement of the receipts of this article for a series of years. The receipts of the past two years were as follows:

	1858
Receipts by lake, bu	6,621,668
" by canal	2,460
Total supply	6,624,128
	1859.
Receipts by lake, bu	3,113,663
" by canal	17,118
" by Buffalo & Erie R R	18,675
Total supply	3,149,346

The total falling off in the receipts, as compared with 1858, is thus shown to have been 3,474,782 bu, or more than one-half the entire receipts of that year.

The source of supply by lake was as follows:

Ohio	87,234
Indiana	332,100
Michigan	73,823
Illinois	2,596,488
Wisconsin	21,908
Canada	50
Total	3,113,663

The following will show the disposition of the crop:

Shipped by canal to tide water, bu	1,642,624
Shipped by canal to the interior	614,914
Consigned to the N. Y. Central R R	2,349
In store at the close of navigation	215,845
Burned in City Elevator, Nov. 7	24,400
Shipped by ferry boat to Canada	115,192
Used by distillers	496,361
Amount otherwise disposed of	138,067
Total, equalling receipts	3,149,346

The number of bushels reported in the Commercial as having changed hands since and including 1857 is shown by the following:

Sales reported in 1857, bu	3,692,000
Sales reported in 1858, bu	3,154,000
Sales reported in 1859, bu	1,953,000

A considerable proportion of the transactions are not reported. Were it possible to obtain the exact amount, we have no doubt our figures for 1859 would be increased at least to 2,500,000 bushels.

The market, at the beginning of March last year, opened dull and heavy at from 76 to 80c for fair to choice, the demand at that time being confined to the wants of distillers, who, by reason of high prices, were not running their works to more than one-half their full capacity. The stock in store at this period was about 30,000 bu, but the amount was materially reduced before the middle of April. Our receipts, moreover, for March and April were very light, amounting to only some 75,000 bus—a smaller amount than had generally been supposed would come forward by this time. About the 1st of May, as lots began to arrive more freely, the market declined 2 a 3c, but old prices were again resumed before the middle of the month, owing to continued light receipts, and during the second week in May a further advance of 6 a 7c was noted. Prices fluctuated considerably during the latter part of the month, and at times small lots of prime found buyers at 90c, and even higher, when the market would almost immediately fall back within the range of 85 a 87c. The weather about the 1st of June was remarkably damp, and no small proportion of our receipts were by its influence in a heated or unsatisfactory condition. Holders were anxious, therefore, to get the same off their hands as speedily as possible, and in order to do so were willing, in most cases, to make liberal concessions. Throughout June, also, prices continued to decline, but the demand, considering the amount on the market, was moderately active. A break in the canal in July, coupled with news of a termination of the Italian war, imparted considerable dullness to the market, which was exceedingly weak during most of the time.—The month of August, on the contrary, was characterized by more activity, and under the impression that the new crop was likely to prove short, renewed firmness was the legitimate result. A considerable proportion of the receipts about the first of September were put into store immediately on arrival, in view of the impression noted above, but during the second week in September we shipped by canal some 64,000 bu in excess of our receipts. During the last two weeks of the month, the market advanced 10c, with a moderately active demand.—During the month of October nearly all the old offering found willing buyers at the prices to be found in the following list. The prices in this list, after and including Nov. 14, 1859, are for the new crop, which was greatly inferior to that of the old one:

OATS.

For a statement showing the annual receipts of this cereal by lake since and including 1836 the reader is referred to a table under the head of "Lake Commerce." The total receipts for 1858 and 1859 were as follows :

1858.
Receipts by Lake, bu.....	2,282,034
by Canal, bu.....	13,791
Total supply.....	2,295,825
1859.
Receipts by Lake.....	1,394,502
" B. & Erie Railroad.....	4,327
" Canal.....	220
Total supply.....	1,397,049

Compared with the receipts of 1858 there is thus shown to have been a falling off of $98,776 bu.

The source of supply by lake was as follows:

Ohio, bu.....	82,504
Indiana.....	35
Michigan.....	25,822
Illinois.....	93,571
Wisconsin.....	302,505
Canada.....	180,165
Total.....	1,394,502

The disposition of the amount arriving from all sources was as follows :

Shipped by Canal to tide water, bu.....	861,188
to the Interior.....	101,961
Burned in the City Elevator, Nov. 7.....	56,000
Used by distillers.....	29,557
Shipped coastwise by Lake.....	3,300
Consigned to the N. Y. Central Railroad.....	750
In store at the close of navigation.....	178,296
Amount otherwise disposed of.....	177,467
Total, equalling receipts.....	1,397,049

Taking into account the increased receipts of last year the market appears to have been more animated, in proportion to the total amount which came forward than during the season of 1858. The sales during each of the three seasons last past have been in the aggregate as follows:

Sales reported in 1857, bu.....	900,000
" in 1858.....	1,214,000
" in 1859.....	774,300

The amount in store on the 7th of March last was about 8,000 bu. The demand had been quite active during the preceding winter, and as the receipts had been moderate, the stock in store was quite light at and previous to the resumption of lake navigation. The demand on the 1st of March was nevertheless moderate as many of our livery stables were using coarse corn meal, mill feed, &c., as a substitute, and in view of prospective liberal receipts parties, in some cases, were from 2 to 3c apart in their views, holders, meanwhile, remaining firm. The first cargo from Chicago was brought, we believe, by the schooner Carrington, which arrived on the 15th of April, and from this time forward the market, with some few exceptions was pretty liberally supplied. Prices were nevertheless well sustained during the first two weeks of the month, but during the remaining two weeks prices fell away from 58 to 52c. By the 9th of May the amount in store was only about 7,000 bu., and the market, in consequence, ruled firm. Throughout the whole of May and June prices continued to decline slowly but steadily. For the balance of the season our list of prices below will furnish all the information necessary, so far at least, as the weekly variation in prices is concerned :

HARLEY.

Under the head of "Lake Commerce" are figures indicating the receipts by lake for a series of years. We subjoin a comparison of the total receipts for two years :

1858.
Receipts by Lake.....	2,282,034
by Canal.....	13,791
by Buffalo & Lake Huron Railway before opening of navigation.....	6,798
Total supply.....	2,295,825

1859.
Receipts by Lake.....	361,560
" by Canal.....	5,210
" by Buffalo and Erie Railroad.....	635
" by team from Niagara Co.....	45,000

Total supply.....412,405

Our entry of 45,000 bu. by team from Niagara Co. is an estimate based on actual receipts from that quarter of something over 36,000 bu.

The source of supply by lake was as follows:

Ohio.....	1,051
Indiana.....	870
Michigan.....	1,925
Illinois.....	226,104
Wisconsin.....	30,511
Canada.....	100,895
Total.....	361,560

Our receipts from Canada are shown to have been very light in comparison with previous years. The 100,895 bu. which came forward, as above, was all received after the first of August. The same fact applies with equal force to flour and other grains. The crops in Canada, in 1858, were, as all are aware, very light, and we therefore exported breadstuffs to that Province to a considerable extent until the harvest of 1859 had been gathered in.

The following is a disposition of our total receipts:

Shipped by Canal.....	bu 308,526
Used by distillers and brewers.....	48,325
Shipped coastwise by Lake.....	5,023
In store at the close of navigation.....	48,339
Amount otherwise disposed of.....	2,192

Total equaling receipts.....412,405

The sales last season reached 103,000 bushels showing that the market was as active, in proportion to the receipts, as that for other grains. At the opening of Navigation the total amount in store, according to the official report of the Elevating Company of that date, was 13,000 bu., most of which was western. The market was then quiet within the range of 70a75c, as to quality. The first sale reported after this date was a lot of 2,000 bu. ordinary Genesee Co., which sold at 72½c. From this date until the middle of May the market ruled very quiet, at which time transactions were rather more frequent while prices were better. The inquiry soon subsided, however, and the market continued very quiet until the latter part of September, when maltsters and distillers commenced purchasing to a fair extent and prices advanced some 10c. From this time forward the demand was moderately active, and most of the sales were accordingly made after this date at the prices given below:

RYE.

By reference to a table under the head of "Lake Commerce," the reader may find figures indicating the receipts by lake of this cereal from 1836 to 1859, inclusive. The total receipts for the past two years are as follows:

1858.
Receipts by lake, bu.....	125,214
" by canal.....	9,434
Total supply.....	131,648

1859.
Receipts by lake, bu.....	124,633
" by canal.....	15,765
Total supply.....	140,458

There is thus shown to have been an increase of 5,810 bushels, as compared with the figures of 1858. The following shows the disposition of the of the entire receipts:

Shipped by canal, bu.....	36,567
Used by distillers.....	56,672
Burned in the City Elevator, Nov. 7.....	17,000
In store at the close of navigation.....	28,231
Amount otherwise disposed of.....	1,968

Total, equaling receipts.....140,458

The market, at the opening of navigation was entirely bare, but the inquiry was nevertheless moderate, as maltsters, distillers, &c., had supplied themselves to a fair extent from the receipts of the previous season. The amount which came forward before the first of August was very light, amounting in the aggregate to but 4,544 bushels. During the month of August we received 12,414 bushels, the greater portion of which was doubtless the crop of 1859. The entire sales as reported in the Commercial were 58,400 bu.

FREIGHTS.

A moderately fair improvement took place in this line last season as compared with the rates of the previous year. Although there was less grain to come forward from upper lake ports than during the season of 1858, the business was much more remunerative, while about all the vessels engaged were pretty steadily employed throughout the entire season. With the exception of salt, however, there was probably less up freights offering, on the whole, than during some previous years, yet little complaint was at any time made by reason of a dearth of heavy articles or even of the lighter varieties of merchandise. From other ports, especially that of Oswego, considerable difficulty was at times experienced in this particular. Salt at that place, usually forms the largest item in the way of lake exports either foreign or coastwise, but as the receipts of that article exhibit a marked falling off last year, as compared with previous seasons, the ability of that city to export was of course proportionally diminished.

The following shows the rates on wheat and corn from Chicago once a week for two years. The figures for this year are from Mr. Catlin's report :

Canal carriers were also enabled to realize rather more last season than during the previous year. Rates were somewhat better; the canal was in better navigable order, and fewer serious breaks occurred than during the previous season, thus enabling boats to make quicker trips. Boatmen were nevertheless subject to the same drawback as in 1858, particularly as regards the transportation of flour; namely, the damaging competition of the railroads. The low rate on this article also exerts more or less influence on prices for the transportation of wheat and corn, and although the season, as above remarked, shows some improvement, as compared with 1858 the business is by no means as remunerative as it should be.

The first engagements last spring were for transporting staves to Troy and Albany. They were taken at $1,37, a 1,50 per ton over tolls.—Pine lumber was then taken at $3,75 per M, tolls included, and hardwood do. at $1,25 per ton over tolls. As a general thing rates on these articles have met with the proportional increase incident to flour and grain except at times when lumber boats were scarce and others plenty, or vice versa.

COAL.

The annexed statement shows the annual imports of coal into the city by lake and by canal, for a period of seven years—

Rv Lake.	Tons.	Rv Canal.	Tons.
1853.....	34,198	1851.....	22,313
1854.....	57,694	1854.....	34,313
1855.....	59,878	1855.....	43,371
1856.....	53,512	1856.....	51,781
1857.....	67,217	1857.....	57,696
1858.....	61,304	1858.....	27,361
1859.....	66,703	1859.....	33,560

The supply by other routes than those above is not worthy of mention. As compared with 1858, our receipts by lake last year show an increase of 15,309 tons. Last year also shows an increase of 6,827 tons in our lake receipts, as compared with any in the above list, the greatest amount being received in 1855, when we received 59,878 tons. The coal brought hither by lake is altogether bituminous, and is mostly from Erie; a considerable portion, however, comes from Cleveland. Our receipts by canal also exhibit an increase of 6,197 tons as compared with 1858. This is of the various descriptions of anthracite via New York, Albany and Ithaca. A portion is Bloesburgh, which is used for smelting purposes.

There was a better demand for all varieties of coal in 1859 than during the preceding year, the movement in all directions being larger—thus proving that manufacturing establishments, not only in the interior, but those located here and west of us, have been operating to a greater extent than in the year 1858. There has also been an increased demand from the interior on account of gas companies. The shipments by canal in 1856 were 9,800 tons; in 1857, 14,025 tons; in 1858, 16,259 tons; in 1859, 41,008 tons.

Of the total receipts by lake and canal last year—100,263 tons—18,084 were shipped by lake, and 1,643 tons taken by ferry boats to Canada. These two items, together with the amount shipped by canal, aggregate 60,735 tons, leaving 35,528 tons for the use of the city, shipments by railroad, and a remainder on hand at the close of the year. How near this is to the actual amount, it is of course impossible to say, on account of the uncertainty of lake shipments. It could not, however, have been much larger.

On the 1st of July last Lehigh was valued at $5 75 per ton; Lackawana, $5 25; Scranton, $5 25; Bituminous and Bloesburgh, $5.—Sept. 1st., Lehigh, $6; Lackawana and Scranton, $5 50; Bituminous and Bloesburgh, $5.—December 1st, Lehigh, $6 50; Lackawana and Scranton, $6, and Bituminous and Bloesburgh, $5 00.

HIDES.

Probably there is no city around the lakes in which a greater number of hides are tanned annually than that of Buffalo. The imports are therefore large, not only by lake from the west, but by canal from the seaboard. The number which came forward by lake during each of the eight years last past, was as follows:

Receipts by Lake of 1852.....	No. 95,482
" " 1853.....	95,482
" " 1854.....	67,427
" " 1855.....	94,984
" " 1856.....	111,226
" " 1857.....	120,651
" " 1858.....	145,350
" " 1859.....	148,946

The receipts and shipments by canal since and including 1856, have been as follows—

	Received.	Forwarded.
1856.....	463,425	469,465
1857.....	130,500	780,885
1858.....	579,904	669,312
1859.....	386,789	342,039

But a very small proportion of our receipts by canal pass through to Western States. The Custom House returns do not give the number which went to Canada last year, but the valuation of the same was $13,813. The receipts by railroad are also large, but we have no means of ascertaining the precise number. It is believed that more than two-thirds of our entire receipts are used in the city and vicinity.

On the 1st of May last, green trimmed ruled at 8c; green salted at 9 1-4c; and dry flint at 20c per lb; but by the 1st of November had declined to the following figures—green trimmed, 6 1/2c; green salted, 8c, and dry flint 16 1/2c.

HAMBURGH CHEESE.

The trade in this article during the year past exhibits a fair degree of improvement as compared with the season of 1858. During no lengthened period, however, has the demand been very active, but on the other hand, a fair inquiry has prevailed throughout the entire season, with occasional exceptions, while prices have ruled as per our quotations. Under the designation of "Hamburgh Cheese" is included all that made in the towns adjoining to, and in the neighborhood of the city. It is of nearly uniform quality, and owes its reputation to the thorough and peculiar manner in which it is made, and, doubtless, in a degree, to the nature of the soil on which the grass and hay fed to the cows is grown. Be this as it may, the good name of the article is fully established, and the demand for it is increasing from year to year.—The regions which look to this market for supplies are Canada West, Michigan, Wisconsin, the northern parts of Indiana and Illinois, and a portion of Iowa. There are some five houses which are engaged almost exclusively in buying and selling this cheese, each of which usually contracts for the product of several dairies at a given price during the whole season. Beside these, several groceries, &c., are engaged to a greater or less extent in the trade.

The total supply during the past year, as near as it has been possible for us to arrive at the facts, has been as follows:

On hand January 1st, 1859.....lbs	261,000
Receipts of five leading houses during the year.....	1,800,044

Ordinary to prime old sold from the opening of navigation until about the 1st of June, when the new make began to take possession of the market at from 9 to 13c per lb. When new began to come forward, prices ranged at 9 a 10c, but by the end of the first week in July fell off to 7 a 9c, advancing to 8 a 9½c by the latter part of August, then to 9 a 10c about the 1st of October, and lastly to 9½ a 10½c by the middle of November.

LEATHER.

There are now in this city and vicinity, nine tanneries, in part or wholly owned here. Most of them are extensive concerns, employing in the aggregate a large number of men, probably not less than 600. Large quantities of leather are thus annually turned out, and being of excellent quality, meets with ready buyers both east and west of us. Hemlock tanned sole is the principal variety manufactured, and probably has as good a reputation as any other variety turned out. Besides the amount manufactured here, large quantities are annually brought forward by lake, a considerable portion of which is consigned to parties directly interested in the trade. The receipts both by lake and canal for a series of years have been as follows—

Receipts by lake, 1855, roll.....	2,266
" " 1856.....	2,316
" " 1857.....	2,513
" " 1858.....	4,291

" " 1857.....	714,131
" " 1858.....	808,863
" " 1859.....	1,722,260

The number of lbs shipped by canal last season was 94,579, against 185,205 lbs in 1858, a decrease of 90,626 lbs.

We are unable to give the movement of this article either to or from this city by the railroads. It is known, nevertheless, to have been large during the past year, and is doubtless one of the many commodities to which these corporations are indebted for their extensive carrying business; and owing to the fact that it is easily handled, forms a very desirable class of freight.

The business in leather, locally, at least, during the past year, has not been of so favorable a character as could have been wished, but while this is true, we hear of no serious complaint arising from a lack of demand or a depreciation.

in prices. There has, however, been a downward tendency in the latter, best slaughtered and middle weights ruling, in May last, at 26a 26½, heavy slaughtered at 25c, heavy Spanish at 25a25½c, and best do at 26c, while in November best slaughtered and middle weights brought but 24c, heavy slaughtered 22½c, heavy Spanish 22½a23c, and best do 23½c.

LIVE STOCK.

We herewith present a more accurate report of the receipts of live stock at this point, both by water and rail, during the past season, than any hitherto published. This we are enabled to do from the fact that we have kept what we have every reason to believe a reliable weekly account of the receipts at each of the several yards which follow—the receipts by lake distinguished from the number received by the State Line Railroad, as well as the source of supply by either route.

It will be observed, from the above, that a very large falling off in the receipt of live stock by lake took place last year, as compared with the previous season. The decrease in cattle amounts to 14,916 head; of hogs, 94,373 head; and of sheep 17,659 head.

The source of supply is as follows:

A strong competition existed throughout the spring and a portion of the summer months, between the five great lines of railway: the New York Central, New York and Erie, Baltimore and Ohio, Pennsylvania Central, and Grand Trunk Railway. During this period the receipts by lake were of an extremely meagre character. Every variety of stock was engaged by the agents of these corporations, and often at figures far below the actual cost of transportation. We shall not, however, attempt a discussion of the demerits of this ruinous policy here, but figures bearing on the subject, may be found in another place.

As regards the proprietorship of the yards for the accommodation of stock, some few changes have been made during the past year, while one new one has been erected. L. G. Burrus abandoned the place known as the "Wood Stand," about the 1st of July, and removed to the farm known as the "Old Lamb Place," situated on Elk street, Z. Estes retiring from business. So far as the yards, for the accommodation of cattle, are concerned, this is the only change which has been made. L. Crocker & Co. still occupy the Tift Farm, on the lake shore; D. M. Joslyn remains on Seneca at., on the plank road while Burrus & Dickey, as above remarked, occupy the "Old Lamb Place." One new yard, designed only for the accommodation of hogs, has been erected, situated adjoining the shipping pens of the New York and Erie Road, on Elk street. It was built by Messrs. A. J. & P. Dickey, and used by them until about the 1st of October, when it was sold to, and has since been under the control of J. H. Metcalfe. It will be observed that the receipts at Metcalfe's yards on the beach are very light. They have been practically abandoned during the entire year. The Lake Shore Road has constructed new, ample and convenient pens for the loading of stock, within the year past. They are situated on Elk street, within a few rods of the yards of Mr. Metcalfe. It may not be out of place to remark, that all the above yards are conveniently situated for the accommodation of stock of all kinds—that they are furnished with ample sheds for the protection of stock in stormy weather, as well as an abundant supply of water; and, moreover, that they are in connection with good hotels.

The following is a complete and accurate statement of the receipts at the different yards, together with the source of supply:

As regards prices for cattle, we are unable to present what may be considered a full report. The inauguration of the competition between the different lines of railway, and the discrimination exercised by them against Buffalo interests, served to drive buyers from the market, inasmuch as they were enabled to go west and purchase better beeves at lower prices than could be afforded by our dealers, while they were enabled to ship them to eastern markets at lower rates than those charged from this point to the same localities. Again, buyers were reluctant to give the figures at which their purchases were made, from the fact that the terms of sale invariably reached New York, Albany, Brighton, &c., before the arrival of the stock itself—hence the desire, so universally manifested, to have them kept private. Most of the cattle changing hands, moreover, were sold at a certain sum per head, varying in price according to quality, and of which no definite idea can well be given. We have kept a weekly account of the sales reported at each yard, which is as follows:

The greater portion of the stock shipped from this point, going either by the Central or N. Y. and Erie, is contracted to go through to New York City, although a considerable quantity via the former road stops off at Albany, where it is met by speculators, not only from New York, but Cambridge, Brighton, &c. That taken by the New York and Erie, with few exceptions, goes directly through.

LUMBER.

The receipts of lumber at this port have increased beyond all precedent, during the past year, as will be seen. from the following statement showing the receipts by lake for the past fourteen years—

1846.....	94,536,000
1847.....	18,313,000
1848.....	21,425,000
1849.....	33,935,768

1857.....	66,253,119
1858.....	67,059,173
1859.....	111,072,446

The average annual receipts from 1846 to and including 1858, were 55,867,994 feet. The receipts of 1859, thus show an increase of 55,202,452 feet, as compared with this average, while an increase in 1859 of 44,013,273 feet is apparent as compared with the receipts of 1858.

The source of supply by lake last year was as follows—

Ohio.....	feet	13,959,389

Michigan.....		36,124,164

Total.....111,072,446

The increase from the states was of a very marked character last year. During previous seasons the amount from Canada has nearly equalled one half our entire receipts, but last year it amounts to but a fraction more than one-third. From other states than Michigan the proportion is about as formerly, but from this locality a very large increase has taken place, as compared with former years.

We shipped by canal from Buffalo last year 94,346,597 feet, and by lake, coastwise, 171,176 feet, making a total of 94,517,773 feet sent forward by both routes. This leaves 16,554,673 feet, as the amount used by builders in the city and on hand at the close of the year.

The trade is represented to have been more profitable last season than in 1857 or 1858. The market, however, has ruled remarkably steady throughout the entire season, opening and closing as follows—

OILS.

The oil trade for the year 1859 has ranged more uniform, and been marked by a gradual improvement and less speculative movements than the preceding year. Oils generally have been more firm throughout the year, and 1860 came in with prices rapidly advancing, and a fair increasing demand. Through the various channels of trade, dealers and consumers generally have the last year placed more of a cash value on the manufactured, as well as on the crude or raw material, and this among the other causes combined, has been the means of producing a more satisfactory trade throughout the country generally, and places the oil trade in all its details in its true position; the mercantile position of which ranks second to no other.

The year opened in 1859 with prices greatly in advance of the preceding year, but not quite equal to the average of 1858. The leading oils remained firm, and were subject to but little fluctuation after prices were fully established. The value of manufactured oil sold in this city was about equal to 1857, and an advance in quantity over that of 1858. Prices have not governed sales so much as the quality. First class oils in all cases have taken the preference over those of low prices, and the majority of purchases have been made with a strict view to economy, and, aside from the wholesale trade, most purchases are made as wanted for immediate use, buyers preferring the risk of any change to that of large investments. Comparative prices are as follows:

	Jan 1, 1858.	Jan 1, 1859	Jan. 1, 1860.
Sperm oil (Nat winter).....	$1 30	$1 41	$1 51

Lard oil, fall.....	0 85	0 90	0 90
Linseed oil.....	0 63	0 75	0 65

LARD AND OIL—Throughout the year lard oil has been in good demand, with but little variation in price. In amount the consumption and sales cannot be far from 22,000 gallons. A considerable amount of this has been made for Eastern markets.

The average price for the year is 92½c. This article is governed by the price of lard. In red oils the demand has been more light than during the preceding year.

Lard has changed but little in price during the year. The highest was from January to July, from which time it was more uniform.

The average yield of lard per hog is not far from 28 lbs. The decrease in amount of lard as compared with last year is about 1 3-8 a 1 1-2 per cent.

LINSEED OIL.—Large importations of oil and seed were made in anticipation of a failure of the flax seed crop. The consequence was that heavy losses were made in oil bought on speculation and it sold at a loss. From all accounts the crop of the present year (1859) is excellent. The seed is plump, clean and sound.

No oil in the market is so variable, or subject to the change and speculative movements, as linseed oil, and the mistake of the trade generally is in overlooking our foreign supplies.—From the turn that oil and seed has taken, we anticipate fair prices the coming season.

The value of the importations of linseed oil into the United States for 1859 can be set down at $2,415,243 against $3,243,174 in 1858; and linseed oil in 1859, $698,172 against $164,757 in 1858.

The reports from the West show that there was crushed about 200,000 bushels of seed within the vicinity of Dayton, O o. This is for six mills, making about 14,000 barrels of oil in 1859. In 1858 the amount made within this vicinity was about 2600 bbls only.

Manufactured oils have been in good demand during the year for Canada, the west and southern markets.

The whale fishery of 1859 has been more productive in quantity than that of 1858, although the losses have been heavy. The return has been on low prices of whale oil of an average of 4 to 5c, and an average on sperm of 15 to 16c a gallon over 1858. Heavy outfits and long voyages have been made with poor success; in very many cases entailing severe and heavy losses to owners, and it seems more difficult every year to take the whale. New grounds are being sought, consuming a great waste of time, at great expense, and with that uncertainty attending the final result which is really discouraging.

The North Pacific fisheries seem to have met with more than ordinary ill success, and prices for 1860, from the present indications must rule high, with an increasing foreign and home demand for the leading oils.

The excess of the catch over 1858 is 17,655 barrels, and it still is 27,512 barrels less than 1857, which was 45,167 barrels more than in 1858.

In 1858 there were 129 vessels, with a tonnage of 8,033 less to do the business than in 1857, and yet a deficiency of 45,167 bbls.

In 1859 we have to register 54 vessels, with a tonnage of 18,066 less than 1858, with an increase over 1858 of 17,655 barrels of oil. This shows a gradual decrease in the number of vessels employed, and it would seem that even more are employed than is necessary, in view of the uncertainty of successful voyages.

In 1858 the exports of oil were 22,839 barrels—about equal to 1856.

In 1859 the exports of oil were 60,336 barrels, showing a demand of 37,550 barrels more than 1858. This is owing to the increased demand for sperm oil, both for export and home consumption, and for this oil prices will not rule less than in 1856.

As a standard oil, it has never been superceded, and although the market is flooded with compounds purporting to be better, yet in nine cases out of ten they rely upon this very oil for their reputation. Market oils, like gold and silver, are worth their market value the world over, and any reduction in price, or in quality from the standard, will tell in a corresponding ratio in its use and value.

The vegetable and mineral compounds which are flooding the country depend upon good sperm, whale or lard for their reputation, and it is one of the many ways of using up one of the necessary products of destructive distillation by mixing it with a good oil; and we are not convinced, from their chemical nature, as to their healthfulness, safety or economy, or that they will ever interfere with market oils. On the contrary, the result has been, and will be, to advance the price and standing of prime standard oils whenever they are brought in competition. Practical men will not run risks on uncertainties.

The importation of sperm oil for the year 1859 was 91,408 barrels, of whale 190,410 barrels, being an increase of 17,655 barrels of oil over 1858. The largest amount of whale oil was received from March to July, and sperm (as in 1858,) from May to September, and the smallest amount in January.

The greatest amount of whalebone received was from March to June. From August the receipts gradually diminished to the close of the year.

The export of sperm oil was 52,207 barrels, of which 41,670 barrels went to London, 7,529 barrels to Liverpool, and 2,884 barrels to Glasgow.

The exports of whale oil was 8,179 barrels, (5,954 barrels of which went to Havre.) being in all 37,547 barrels more than in 1858.

The average price of sperm oil was $1 36 per gallon, against $1 21 in 1858. The lowest average being in July, August and September, and the highest in February and March.

The average price of whale oil for 1859 was 48½c, against 54c in 1858. The lowest average being in May, June and July, and the highest in March.

The lowest price for sperm was in 1844 when it ruled at 63c per gallon, and whale in 1841 at 30½c.

The stock of oil in the United States on the 1st of January, 1860, was 109,909 barrels, consisting of 13,429 barrels of sperm, and 96,480 barrels whale.

Imports for 1859, 99,551 bbls, of sperm 17,176 and whale 82,375 bbls.

The value of the importation of oil for 1859, taking the average price of sperm and whale and the average price of whalebone as in 1858 is as follows:

Importation of 91,408 bbls, equal to 2,879,352 gallons, sperm at the average price for 1859 amounts to $3,915,918 72. Importation of whale, 190,411 bbls, equal to 5,997,916 gallons, at the average price, amounts to $2,809,003 81. Importation of 1,923,850 lbs. of whalebone, taking the average price of 1858, is $1,779,561 25.

Total average value for the year 1859 is $8,-504,483 73 of importations. This is about $859,986 71 over the average of 1858.

The number of gallons of oil imported at New Bedford is 6,952,021 gallons; value of oil and bone $6,212,140. According to our figures, this leaves $2,292,343 78 as the value of the oil and bone imported at other places.

The London correspondent of the Whaleman's Shipping List reports the imports of oils at London, Eng., for the year ending December, 1859, 6,588 tons of sperm, 310 tons whale—showing an excess over 1858 of 2,337 tons of sperm, and of whale 698 tons less than 1858.—Stock on hand about 1647 tons.

"There has been a decided improvement in sperm, promoted by the market throughout last year having sustained a medium value, commanding with our manufacturers a preference over the many inferior substitutes adopted by them in times of higher prices.

"The past year finally concludes our enterprise in the South Sea, not any English whaling vessels being now engaged in the fisheries.

"The article of whalebone continues to maintain a high value. With the exception of our few ships to Greenland and Davis Straits fisheries, the whole world may be almost considered to depend on the United States for supplies of an article in constant demand, and for which no good substitute is known. Therefore, taking into consideration the uncertainty of supply, and the small stock on hand in America, we anticipate an improvement in its present value."

COAL OR MINERAL OIL.—In no country has there been such a rapid progress made in the development of mineral fuel, and its adaptation to every department of industry, as in the United States. An interesting fact in regard to almost all the useful mineral productions, and particularly coal, is that they flourish almost exclusively in the cool and temperate Zones.

The manufacture of Coal Oils has increased with such rapidity within the last three years, that it seems hardly creditable. A year ago, when coal oils were commanding large prices very many embarked in the manufacture, with a degree of recklessness truly surprising.— Without any knowledge or regard to the result, many samples sent for examination proved to be slate only; others contained so little of the hydro-carbons that they would be exceedingly poor for fuel. It will not pay to distil coal for the illuminating oils alone, at the low figure at which they are at present forced into market; it is necessary that the heavy products should find a desirable market value, and it is here that so many are deceived and fortunes wasted. It is not, nor will it follow, that because an article is produced from a substance that is cheap, it will or must supercede all other products for the same purpose, particularly when the first depend upon the latter for their strength, durability and economy; nor is it a fact that, because the spirit hydro-carbon of coal finds sale, that the heavy products of Paraffinized oil will be in demand likewise. In the first place, it remains yet to be proved that the volatile hydro-carbons as thrown into the market for burning, do not produce serious effects upon the lungs and brain, resulting in dizziness and intense headache, and more or less affecting the senses of hearing and seeing. They should never be burnt in a close room, for they require such an amount of oxygen to produce perfect combustion, that it burns up the very life from the air itself. Oils that are made by destructive distillation, produce intense heat, either by burning or friction, and particularly under pressure, and their elasticity not only prevents, in many cases, chemical union, but it favors decomposition of almost all metals.

Volatility in a body, while it prevents separation from the more fixed, facilitates the decomposition of bodies with which they are brought in contact. Volatility or escape of vapor is always considered an element of instability in an oil.

The discovery of the production of oils from coal dates as early as 1739, in England. The era of the manufacture of oils from coal can be set down at about 1805, but the most practical results were in 1850. The distillates of Asphalte was in 1820, by a Swiss, and was identical with the distillate of Petroleum of America. Paraffin was first discovered practically in 1830, and Naptha in 1832, and only succeeded as an art in 1850.

There are now over forty manufacturers of coal illuminating oils in the United States, and the amount manufactured is so far in advance of the consumption, that the attention of scientific and practical men has been turned within the last year to find use for it aside from illuminating and other purposes. The approximate estimate of the quantity of illuminating oil manufactured daily cannot be far from 22,750 gallons, requiring 60,000 bushels of cannel coal, and its value is over $5,000,000 a year; this is aside from the sales of the heavy oils, which are very uncertain and not at all reliable. Some of the important characteristics which mark coal that is best suited for making oil, are specific gravity, electric power and chemical constitution. Low density generally indicates a large amount of volatile matter. Some coal, which produces the best oils, becomes powerfully electric, while in others, which produce poorer oils, it is not the case. It is a well known law of organic chemistry, that the higher the temperature, and the more advanced the decomposition of substances, the simpler are the products, and the greater the quantity of hydrogen exceeds that of oxygen, in coal, the better it is for gas. The greater the quantity of hydrogen to react upon the carbon, the longer will coal last for burning. When hydrogen is in greater proportion than the oxygen, the gas is permanently gaseous, and will stand the greatest pressure and the greatest degree of cold.

Coal that contains the greatest amount of carbon, with hydrogen and oxygen to generate sufficient quantities of inflammable gas to promote its rapid ignition, is the best for intense heat. The nature of the change which coal undergoes by heat, depends upon the ratio that oxygen and hydrogen bear to each other. When they combine at low temperatures, volatile, oily liquids are formed; at high temperatures, gaseous and carburetted hydrogen is formed. After the proper coal has been found for oil, an all important item in its distillation is to arrive at the suitable temperature, for it is the temperature at which coal is carbonized that determines the nature of the product (an important point in gas making); another is, the best mode of distilling, for coal oil ends where that of gas making begins—any variation of temperature produces an entire new effect; hence the endless variety of coal oils in market, and the great difficulty of producing a uniform article. Coal for making oil should be distilled downwards; a larger yield and a better oil is produced; by vaporizing and forcing the vapor upwards, large quantities are condensed and fall back, are redistilled and form an entire new product. The volatile matter contained in different coals is at present a matter of inquiry which is being agitated in regard to its use as fuel for steamers, in point of economy, heating power, bulk, &c. To us it does not seem in the least practicable, without the combustion were perfect, for the carbon would form in such quantities as soon to fill flues and stack. The extremely unpleasant and penetrating odor would be another serious objection; the fixed oils might answer. The area of coal in the United States, taking twelve States, is 133,132 square miles, nearly 1-4 the area of the whole. Illinois is 3-4; Virginia, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Ohio, $\frac{1}{2}$, the remainder 1-10 to 1-20 each.

The relative density of different species of coal from various parts of the world, is as follows:

Albert coal—specific gravity	1.12
Breckenridge—Cannel	1.16
Kentucky—Bituminous	1.20
Missouri do	1.22
Newcastle—Foreign	1.25
Indiana—Bituminous	1.26
Liverpool (foreign)—average	1.262
Ohio—Bituminous	1.270
Illinois	1.273
Pennsylvania	1.326
Scotch—Foreign	1.519
Virginia—average	1.575

Common bituminous coal has specific gravity of 1.27 to 1.35, and anthracite from 1.50 to 1.85. The only coal lighter than this, is the Albert coal of New Brunswick, the density of which is 1.12, as shown.

Mean weight of American coal per cubic yard:

American	2590 lbs. Bituminous	2801 lbs. Anthracite.
European	3,644	2281

American anthracites are much heavier than those of Europe, while the bituminous are about the same.

The volatile matter contained, including all the distillates in coal from various sections, are as follows:

	Percent.
Albert coal	61.74
Kentucky—Breckenridge, average	69.33
Pennsylvania	52.95 to 49.84
Virginia	10.70 to 45.40
Loans	42.00

Illinois	40.33
Missouri	39.30
Arkansas	28.99
Maryland	7.13 to 22.50
Indiana	24.00

Average Liverpool Cannel, 39.58; Newcastle 35.59; Scotch Cannel, 40.06; Boghead, 71.09.

PROVISIONS.

Of pork and other hog products a very considerable increase in the line of receipts has taken place as compared with 1858. The receipts of beef, on the contrary, show a large falling off as compared with that year. This decrease is to be accounted for in two ways, first from the fact that less beef was packed last season than during that of 1858, and secondly, because the railroads, particularly the Grand Trunk line, passing through Canada, diverted a large share which would otherwise have found its way to this port in lake vessels.

The shipments by canal of the three first items above last year were 35,782 bbls. pork, 30,058 bbls. beef, and 1,518,147 lbs. bacon. Of "lard, tallow and lard oil" sent forward by canal the aggregate was 3,150,502 lbs, included in which was doubtless 2,500,000 lbs. lard alone. The balance of these articles was taken by the railroads.

The business of pork packing at this point is principally for city and local trade, and therefore not large. It was much smaller last winter than during the winter previous. No very satisfactory reason is given for this except that our banking houses do not feel inclined to loan their funds on as long dated paper as this business would necessarily require, especially when a better opportunity for investment is constantly presenting itself. But one house, that of F. A. & J. Alberger, pursue the business of pork packing during the entire year. This firm gives us 12,000 as the number which it has cut from January 1st, 1859, to January 1st, 1860. Five other packing houses give us 9,866, or 21,866 in all. The yield of lard was 409,054 lbs. These were mostly all cut in January and February. It is proper to add that but a comparatively small amount of the foregoing stock is now on the market.

Compared with the year 1858, the year 1859 was a dull one for pork, especially from the middle to the close of the year. Lard, however, has been in fair request, but the demand has usually been confined to small lots. Beef has been almost wholly nominal.

SALT.

There was a decided increase in the receipts of Salt by canal last year as compared with the amount which came forward during the previous season, or any other, even since 1853, as the following will show :

RECEIPTS OF SALT BY CANAL FOR A SERIES OF YEARS.

	Pounds.	Value.
1853.....	50,327,474	$475,543
1854.....	67,537,072	372,437

1858.....	77,011,105	385,281
1859.....	112,621,028	394,588

Included in the above were 165,867 lbs. foreign Salt, valued at $995. The receipts at Buffalo and Oswego, for the last three years, have been as follows :

	Buffalo.	Oswego.
1857.....	lbs 52,228,989	142,967,785
1858.....	77,011,105	243,719,816
1859.....	112,621,028	101,293,934

Compared with 1858, Buffalo shows an increase of 35,609,923 lbs., while Oswego sh was a falling off of 143,415,892 lbs.

Under the present system it is impossible to obtain the amount shipped coastwise by lake, as entire cargoes are at times taken without the same being entered on the clearance of the vessel. We found only 117,111 bbls. and 4,600 sacks reported as having been shipped in this direction, probably not one quarter of the actual amount. There was also an aggregate of 19,763 bbls. taken to Canada last year.

STAVES.

For the following tabular statements and article upon the trade, we are again indebted to Mr. Henry H. Hale, of this city.

The following tables have been prepared to show the movement of staves from the Western country to tide water, by the Erie and Welland Canals, and Mississippi River; also the export of staves from various ports to foreign countries; and the direct trade with Europe, from Lake Erie, via the St. Lawrence River.

Great care has been taken in the compilation of the tables to render them accurate and reliable. The figures have been taken from official reports, and from the most reliable commercial reports in the United States and Canada.

The design has been to show the course of the stove trade, for a series of years, in the United States and Provinces of Canada.

The sources of supply for the receipts of 1859 were as follows:

From Ohio.....	4,180,082
Indiana.....	6,843,824
Michigan.....	849,144
Wisconsin.....	488,469

The decrease of receipts in 1851, 1852 and 1853, was owing to the fact that some four millions of staves in number were received at Tonawanda during each of those years, that were heretofore, and have since been, received at Buffalo. Allowing say four millions per year for this diversion, the comparative receipts at Buffalo for the past ten years would stand as follows:

Receipts from 1850 to 1854 inclusive, 5 years, ..No.	79,027,304
Receipts from 1845 to 1850 inclusive, 5 years, ..No.	96,477,921
Total increase for 5 years ending 1859.....	17,450,617

Increase over previous 5 years, 22 per cent.

The value of imports of staves at Buffalo for 1859, is as follows:—23,277,082 staves, gross count, at $30 per M.. (average value) is $698,312.

The number of sugar and molasses hogshead shoofs received by lake at Buffalo during the year of 1859, was 59,000. Average value, say 75 cents each, is $44,250.

The value of staves and shoofs shipped from Buffalo by canal, during the year 1859, is as follows:

	Tons.	Per ton.	Value.
Rough staves and heading.....	101,670	$6 00	$610,020
Hogshead shoofs.....	7,726	20 00	154,520
Sawn and dressed hogshead staves.....	1,650	10 00	16,500
Cut flour barrel do.....	375	12 00	4,500
Stave bolts (oak).....	250	4 50	1,125
Total for 1859.....	111,670		$786,665

The above valuation of rough staves and heading, is made up from the average of sales in New York and Albany, deducting expenses and transportation, leaving their nett value at Buffalo at $6 per ton of 2,000 lbs.

The valuation by the Canal Collector of shipments for 1859, was $1,114,700, being about 40 per cent too high. The valuation by the Canal Collector, of shipments from Buffalo in 1858, was $775,213. The actual value did not exceed $529,885; showing the Collector's valuation to be nearly fifty per cent too high, for that year.

The tolls on rough staves are at 1 mill, and on dressed staves and shoofs, at 1 8-10 mill per 1,000 lbs per mile. This is equal to 70 cents per ton on rough staves, and $1 26 per ton on dressed staves and shoofs, from Buffalo to Albany. During the years 1858 and 1859, the tolls paid on rough staves passing from Buffalo to tide-water, amounted to 12 per cent of their nett value on board canal boat at Buffalo.

During the year 1857, the tolls paid on rough staves amounted to 10 per cent of their nett value at Buffalo.

The Commerce of the New York State Canals will be seen by reference to table "B":

NOTE.—The above shows the per centage of increase for the five years ending 1859, over the five years ending 1854. During the years 1851, 1852, and 1853, the diversion of shipments from Buffalo to Tonawanda, was 60,000 tons for the three years. As this business has since returned to Buffalo, the calculation of the comparative increase in the above table, has been made by allowing the 60,000 tons to have been cleared from Buffalo during those three years.

In comparison with the trade of our own Canals, that of the Welland Canal will be seen by reference to table "C":

It will be seen that of the three routes mentioned above, the Erie Canal holds precedence in the amount of its business, but it must be borne in mind that there is a large amount of staves drawn from Canada West, which pass over the Great Western Railway, and are shipped from Hamilton, down the St. Lawrence River. Also, that the receipts at Norfolk by the Dismal Swamp Canal, and by railroad, are large. The same holds true in regard to the receipts at Baltimore, from the Susquehanna River, and by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

The receipts at Philadelphia by the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, are also large. Therefore the above statement shows only a part of the amount of staves actually reaching tide water, in Canada and the United States. An estimate might be made of the whole amount thus reaching tide water annually, as follows:

Receipts by the Erie and Champlain Canals, say.....	Tons.
Receipts by the St. Lawrence River, say.....	100,000
Receipts at New Orleans from interior, say.....	60,000
Receipts at Norfolk from interior, say.....	40,000
Receipts at various ports of the United States sea board, estimated.....	40,000
Estimated total.....	290,000
Say, in round numbers.....	300,000

The above estimate is for rough staves only. The receipt at tide water of shooks, and pine heading for the same, not being taken into the account, though it is intended to embrace the receipt of staves used in the manufacture of shooks.

The above estimate can only approximate towards the real amount, be it more or less; yet from the data given, it must be something of an approximation towards the aggregate of receipts at tide water, of the United States and Canada.

NOTE.—The Staves exported from Canada to the U. S. are not embraced in the above Statement. It must be borne in mind that the Staves exported from Canada, will average much heavier than those from the U. S., as a large amount of the same consist of Standard, or Butt Staves, as appear by the foregoing Tables.

With the above data, it appears that of the 300,000 Tons of Staves annually arriving at Tide Water, in the U. S. and Canada, nearly two-thirds are annually exported to foreign countries, or say 186,000 Tons.

The proportionate export from several of the Ports is as follows :

New York.....	29 percent.	Baltimore.....	3½ percent.
Quebec.....	21 " "	Montreal.....	2½ " "
New Orleans.....	17 " "	All others.....	10 " "
Norfolk.....	17 " "

The comparative increase and decrease of the export of staves, for a period of years, from various Ports to foreign countries, is as follows :

	periods of 5 years	Increase. per cent.	Decrease. per cent.
New York	" 5 "	30	" "
Quebec	" 5 "	143	" "
New Orleans	" 3 "	1	" "
Norfolk	" 2 "	1	" "
Baltimore	" 5 "	24	½ "
Montreal	" 5 "	142	" "
Lake Erie Ports	" 1 "	14	" "

The periods of comparison of New York, Quebec, and Montreal, are for the five years ending Dec. 31st, 1859, against the five years ending Dec. 31st, 1854.

That of New Orleans is for the three years ending August 31st, 1859, against the three years ending August 31st, 1856. No Annual Statement of Exports, previous to the one for the year ending August 31st, 1859, has ever been heretofore published for the port of New Orleans.

From the above comparison, it will be seen that the export trade of New Orleans is increasing in a very rapid ratio. The Stave trade of Europe is tending in that direction, as Staves can be delivered at New Orleans, at less prices than at New York; inasmuch as they are floated down the Ohio and Mississippi rivers and their tributary streams, paying neither tolls or towage.

The export trade of Quebec and Montreal, it will be noticed, is increasing much faster than the export trade of New York; while from ports on Lake Erie, the export has more than doubled the past year, direct to Europe, via the St. Lawrence River.

The question is, (and it is a matter of strong competition with the trade,) which shall be the leading Port of export for Staves, New York, New Orleans, or Quebec. Both New Orleans and Quebec are outstripping New York, even at the extremely low prices which have ruled at the latter place during the past few years.—Each of the three Ports will retain its own domestic trade, as a matter of course. The strife is for the traffic and transportation of the Staves bound to foreign countries. If New York is to retain the supremacy which she has heretofore had, or if she is even to retain her present commerce in Staves, it can only be done by cheap freights, and low tolls on the Erie Canal.

WHISKEY.

The number of barrels received by lake last year falls far behind the receipts of any previous year in the following list, which indicates the amount received for the years given :

1850.....	bbls 30,189	1855.....	bbls 37,087
1851.....	76,324	1856.....	36,009
1852.....	79,306	1857.....	42,140
1853.....	66,707	1858.....	59,446
1854.....	50,267	1859.....	16,211

These figures would seem to indicate that not even one-half the usual amount was manufactured at western points last year. There was doubtless a very large falling off in this direction, but whether, as compared with 1858 it amounted to 50 per cent. even, is a matter of some doubt. The short corn crop of 1858 goes to warrant this conclusion; but, on the other hand, we understand the Railroads carried more than their usual average amount to the seaboard last year, although the receipts by the Buffalo and Erie road at this point goes to disprove this assertion, and beside, it is generally admitted that a larger quantity than usual was manufactured from grain other than corn.

The total supply for the past two years was as follows :

1858.
Receipts by Lake.....	bbls 59,446
by Buffalo & Erie R. R.....	4,000
Manufactured in the city.....	32,749
Total supply.....	96,195

Receipts by Lake.....	bbls 16,211
by Buffalo & Erie R. R.....	2,273
Manufactured in the city.....	43,550
Total supply.....	62,034

The decrease in the total supply as compared with 1858 amounts to 31,161 bbls.

There was an increase of 13,801 bbls. in the amount manufactured in the city in 1859 compared with the number of bbls. turned out in 1858. It is necessary to remark in this connection, however, that the Black Rock Distillery did not commence operations in 1858 until after the 1st of August. These Works are owned and run by Messrs. Stewart, Shoemaker & Co. It is the largest Establishment of its kind in the city. It turned out last year 1,245,380 proof gallons highwines, employed in the manufacture of which were 31,622 bu. wheat, 215,004 bu. corn, 22,198 bu. oats, 16,744 bu. barley, 25,592 bu. rye, 14,629 bu. barley malt, and 7,928 bu. rye malt. The Red Jacket Distillery, owned by Thomas Clark, Esq., situated on Seneca street, a short distance beyond the toll gate turned out 790,542 gallons, and consumed in its manufacture 175,720 bu. grain, the great bulk of which was corn. Mr. Truscott's Distillery is located on William street, in the eastern part of the city. It turned out 664,010 proof gallons last year, and consumed 22,720 bu. wheat, 105,641 bu. corn, 7,359 bu. oats, 18,341 bu. rye, 4,811 bu. rye malt and 7,952 bu. barley malt.

The number of gallons turned out by each of these distilleries for two years is as follows :

	S. S. & Co.'s galls.	T. Clark's galls.	G. Truscott's galls.
1858.....	634,128	790,542	666,052

Increase over 1858 ..	611,252	80,004	77,958

The demand last season was not as active as in many previous years. The number of bbls. reported as having changed hands foots up 199,42, against 34,195 bbls. in 1858, a falling off of 14,253 bbls.

The number of bales of this commodity received by lake last season was 38,261. Allowing each bale to have contained 150 lbs., our receipts for the years from 1851 to 1859 inclusive, have been as follows:

This gives us an increase of 1,718,795 lbs. over 1858. The disposition of our receipts by lake is shown by the following:

Shipped by canal.....	Tbs. 1,747,556
Consigned to the N. Y. C. RR.....	3,492,451
Consigned to the N. Y. & Erie RR.....	25,500

The balance of the receipts, with the exception of the stock now on hand, which is quite light, was shipped by railroad eastward.

LAKE COMMERCE.

The propeller Equinox was the first vessel which cleared from this port last season. She went out on the 2d of March, having on board some 400 bbls potatoes, and about 40 stoves.— Her destination was Sandusky, where she arrived on the morning of the 4th. She returned to this port on the 8th of the same month, with a cargo of flour, corn and pork. We consequently date the opening of navigation from that period, although the first arrival from the upper lakes was the propeller Forest Queen, from Milwaukee, with a cargo composed mostly of flour and bacon, which came in on the 9th of April, a month later. Aside from the ferry boat International, the first craft from Canada was the schooner Bell, which arrived on the 13th of March. The propeller Missouri, from Detroit, arrived on the 18th of the same month.— From the date of the first arrival from upper lake ports, all classes of lake craft came in as freely as could reasonably have been expected, in view of the amount of property to come forward, which, by the way, was not large. The following shows the day of the month on which lake navigation has opened since and including 1852:

1852	April 21
1853	April 14
1854	April 13
1855	May 1
1856	May 3
1857	May 13
1858	April 5
1859	March 8

The last vessels which came into port were the propellers Kenosha and Prairie State, both of which were from Chicago, and came in on the 12th of December. The length of the season of lake navigation is thus shown to have been 279 days.

The following is an exhibit of the lake receipts last season. We have endeavored to give the valuation of the articles, or rather an approximation thereof, as it would be impossible, from the nature of the case, to state their precise intrinsic worth. We feel confident, however, that our estimate is not too high, especially on the leading items:

The value of the receipts, according to the above statement, shows a falling off of $9,386,954. This result is attributed to a decided decrease in the receipts of live stock, flour, wheat, corn, oats, copper ore, butter, &c., coupled with a material decrease in the valuation of leading articles. As an instance, wheat was estimated at $1 00 per bu in 1858, the receipts being 10,671,550 bu, while in 1859 we received 9,434,652 bu, which we have estimated at 80c per bu.

We present below a monthly statement, showing the source of supply of what we conceive to be twelve of the most important articles received at this port. The figures opposite "Indiana" indicate the amount which came from Toledo:

Ohio is thus shown to have contributed more flour than any other State. Wisconsin and Illinois are credited with more wheat than all the other States combined. Illinois, again, sends us more corn, oats, barley and rye than all the other States. Of lumber, Canada contributed the largest amount, although Michigan may be said to fairly equal her, the difference being scarcely worthy of mention. The resources of both are of the most unbounded character, but latterly capitalists seem to have turned their attention more directly to Michigan. Canada, on the contrary, has brought forward an increased number of staves, which in a measure balances the deficiency in lumber. Indiana ranks first in her shipments of hogs and cattle, while Ohio is first in the items of sheep and wool. For further particulars relative to the total receipts of live stock, as well by lake as rail, we refer the reader to our article under the head of "Live Stock," where may be found the total receipts by all routes, together with a statement of the source of supply.

There is thus shown to have been a large falling off in a few of the staple leading articles, and why? Simply because there was a very large decrease in the amount to come forward. It is, therefore, a mistake to suppose that the bulk of these articles have found their way to the seaboard by any other route than via the lakes and Erie Canal. Especially are these remarks applicable to the grain trade. We are aware that many individuals who, by the way, are unacquainted with the intrinsic merits of this subject, are constantly alluding to the fact that Buffalo, during the season of 1859 did not reach her importations of the previous year by an aggregate of nearly 7,000,000 bu of grain.— By an illogical method they thus arrive at the conclusion that this port, as a receiving point, is rapidly growing into disfavor. The facts in the case are entirely the reverse. There is not a port on the whole chain of lakes, be it either a receiving or export point, but that has shown a large falling off in grain receipts as compared with 1858, and the reason, as before remarked, is because there was no more to come forward. By reference to a tabular statement, under the head of "Grain Exports from the Lake Regions," which appears in another part of this statement, the reader cannot fail to observe that Buffalo shows an increased per centage in her receipts of grain, as compared with any previous season in her history.

On the contrary, a handsome gain is apparent in lumber, staves, lath, lard, seed, bacon, and many other articles. Taken as a whole, therefore, the lake business last year was all, and even more, than the most sanguine could have reasonably anticipated.

Here we have an array of figures indicative of our receipts of flour and grain for twenty-three successive years, which of late years will favorably compare with those of any seaport town in the world. Notwithstanding this fact, it was no uncommon sight, at one time last season, to see two and three vessels all on the bar at one time at the entrance of our harbor. We are informed that measures are under way to remove this difficulty. Were the navigable waters of these inland seas in the best possible condition, in order to the prosecution of a successful carrying business, life and property would even then be less secure than if the same vessels engaged in it were doing business between the ports of New York and Liverpool. This fact is admitted almost universally. For want of sufficient appropriations in years past, many partially finished harbors are rapidly approaching a condition when vessels drawing any considerable depth of water will find it next to impossible to enter them with any degree of safety. The St. Clair Flats also presents a formidable barrier to vessels passing to and from the upper lakes. At a late session of Congress a bill was passed appropriating $55,000 to deepen the channel over these flats, but after passing both Houses of our National Legislature by large majorities, and presented to the Executive for his approval, he kept it in his possession nearly eleven months, and only recently returned it to the Senate with his veto. To say the least, this small appropriation was strictly necessary, affecting as it does the entire commercial interests of the West, and it is a matter of extreme regret that any mere fancied technicality should have interfered to hinder its becoming a law.

The receipts of grain during the past season were handled by the following Elevators:

Storage capacity, Elevator's per hour
	bu.
Buffalo Elevator.....	100,000
Corn Dock ".....	300,000
Dart ".....	175,000
Evans ".....	200,000
Hatch ".....	200,000

Main St. ".....	200,000
Sterling ".....	100,000
Seymour & Wells.....	150,000
	1,525,000

Probably no point on the lakes is so well provided with elevators as Buffalo. The Corn Dock and Hatch are the only two, we believe, which are able to unload two vessels at the same time, although most of them possess the means of loading two boats at once.

The City Elevator, owned by the New York

Central Railroad Company, and adjoining the freight depot of that corporation, on Ohio st., was totally destroyed by fire on the night of the 8th of October last. It had a capacity of 370,000 bushels, and was capable of elevating 2,500 bushels per hour. The origin of the fire is still a mystery, although it is believed that some one of the journals became heated, and communicated the fire to the wood work. The amount of the different kinds of grain consumed at this fire was as follows:

Wheat, bu.....	137,500
Corn, bu.....	25,000
Oats, bu.....	54,000
Barley, bu.....	17,000
Rye, bu.....	1,500
Total.....	235,000

There was other produce besides grain stored in the Elevator, but a large portion of it was removed without damage. The grain was covered by $172,600 insurance.

The Central Railroad Company have recently commenced the foundation for a new elevator building, which is to occupy the site of the one recently burned. It is to be built of brick and wood, and will front 134 feet on Ohio st., 136 feet on Michigan street, 144 feet on the dock, and 187 feet on the freight depot. The building is to rest on 128 stone piers eight feet high, each of which will be supported by nine well driven piles. The intermediate space between the piers is to be occupied by mason work, surmounted by inverted arches running at right angles from the piers, and connected with them in such a manner as to prevent the building from settling. The first story is to be fourteen feet high. The bins are to be ten feet square at the top, and forty feet in depth; made in the form of a hopper at the bottom to avoid "trimming" when nearly empty. The walls of these bins are to be six inches in thickness. The outside of the building will be entirely fire proof, as the roof is to be covered with sheet iron, while the windows and doors are to be provided with shutters of the same material. The whole building is to be lighted from above, and when completed will have a capacity for storing 500,000 bushels of grain.

According to the report of the Elevating Company, the amount of grain in store on the 8th of December last was as follows:

Wheat, bu.....	636,135
Corn, bu.....	215,045
Oats, bu.....	175,845
Barley, bu.....	48,325
Rye, bu.....	2,229

The above table embraces but a small portion of the upward bound freight. Vessel owners, until late in the season, were not required to make out a list of the kind and quantity of coastwise cargoes. Our statement of the shipment of flour and grain is doubtless correct, or nearly so. The table is useful as showing to what ports most of the articles were sent.

We have no doubt that the above figures will surprise even those in a measure familiar with the business of the past season. As compared with the previous year, we have an increase of 2,203 in the number of vessels entering and clearing from the port; an increase of 31,358 in crews, and an increase of 2,263,300 in the tonnage account. These figures are from the official register at the Custom House, and are as accurate and reliable as they are gratifying in their character.

SHIPPING OF THE PORT.

The entire lake marine has suffered severely from disasters of one description or other during the year 1859. The increase in losses, as shown by the statement recently made by the Board of Lake Underwriters, amounts to $287,868, being more than half the total losses of 1858. The marine of this district has borne its full share of these disasters, and we accordingly find a decrease of 4,474 tons in the tonnage account of the port. The following is a list of the vessels owned in this district, as given to us by the Deputy Collector of the port. It is believed to be as correct a list as any which have preceded it for several years:

CANAL COMMERCE.

The canals were advertised to be open for navigation on the 15th of April last. That portion of the division east of Rochester and west of Lockport, was ready the following day, but the balance, in consequence of some unfinished work on section 337, at Lockport, was not in readiness until three or four days later.

Four heavy breaks have occurred during the season. The first, the 2d of May, on the high embankment section at Holley, which had not been brought into use, but was so situated with reference to the old canal as to require the construction of two new dams at its connections to restore navigation through the old channel which consequently interrupted the passage of boats some four days.

The second occurred on the 26th of June, in the berm bank, at Bushnell's, which detained navigation four days.

The third, on the 12th of July, in the towing path embankment nearly opposite to the last, but much greater in extent, requiring nine days for its repairs.

The fourth, on the 8th of October, in rear of the west abutment of the aqueduct over Mud creek, one mile west of Palmyra. The abutment was almost entirely undermined from six to ten feet in depth, and sustained from falling only by the piles which were originally driven for the support of its foundation. It was, from its situation, a difficult breach to repair, and required some six days in the operation. The contractor for repairs had taken possession of the work but a few days previous, but on witnessing this breach, abandoned his contract, and the work of repairing was done by the superintendent in charge.

Navigation was also detained about five days by the falling of an iron bridge at Albion, on the 28th of September last. Two carriages, and from 300 to 600 persons, variously estimated, had congregated on the bridge to witness a feat of rope walking, when it fell, precipitating its load in one promiscuous mass into the canal, and among its broken fragments, presenting at the instant an almost unparalleled scene of destruction to human life. Fourteen persons were killed or drowned, and one died from injuries received by this sad disaster. The bridge was erected some ten years ago, and was of the same style and pattern as several, erected at other places at about the same time, which are yet standing. The sectional area of its sustaining rods was sufficiently great, if sound, to have supported more than four times the load supposed to have been upon that part of the bridge which first gave way when it fell. This being the case, its failure can only be accounted for upon the ground that some of the rods were defective, but had escaped previous observation.

The sinking of two boats at Adams' basin, loaded with wheat, and one at Brockport, loaded with stone, also detained navigation at those places until said boats were so far unloaded as to be moved out of the channel.

In the month of November last, soundings were taken on the long level between Rochester and Lockport, which showed, in general, a depth of six feet and over; still, there are bars and places which have filled in from the wash of the banks and surface runs, especially through the sand cuts at Spencerport and Adams' Basin, where the depth is less, which should be cleaned out before the opening of navigation.

The Central Road, as remarked in our last yearly statement, has again taken forward the great bulk of the flour arriving by lake at Buffalo, and the above table fails to show where our interior customers for this article reside, as much of it is immediately sent forward by rail. A considerable amount was also shipped by the Erie road to residents of the southern counties in this State, and along the northern boundary of Pennsylvania.

There was a decrease in the down freight last season of 106,956 tons as compared with 1858, and a decrease of $167,251 in the amount received for tolls. Compared with the previous year, 1857, there is a falling off of only $46,038, while the amount of freight handled, as will be observed, shows an increase of 88,020 tons, owing entirely to the reduction of tolls, a measure which went into effect at the commencement of the following season. We append the subjoined statement, showing the total number of tons sent forward during the years named, together with the amount received for tolls:

As regards the valuation of the property sent forward by canal last season, as compared with 1858, there is a decrease of $8,040,260, a ratio about equal to the decrease in both tons and tolls. The relative value of agricultural products was considerably diminished after the 1st September, the new crop being more plentiful, and at the same time of a better quality than the old one. The annexed table shows the total valuation placed upon the different articles shipped by canal for the years given:

1853.....	$22,452,418
1854.....	26,936,777
1855.....	29,256,457
1856.....	21,970,149
1857.....	16,956,740
1858.....	24,267,171
1859.....	16,226,911

To every fair minded man, the preceding exhibit of the affairs of the canal, so far, at least, as Buffalo is concerned, is, to a certain extent, gratifying in its character. Especially is this true when it is remembered that its common enemy, the railroads, have, by every means which ingenuity could invent, sought to render it unpopular and deprive it of that legitimate business of which, in justice to the people of the State, it should be the sole possessor. It is true, at first sight the figures are not entirely free from disparagement, but not so when the circumstances connected with operating the canal last season are fully and deliberately considered.—It shows, on the contrary, a result far better than many of its most sanguine friends anticipated; while one proof is pretty clearly demonstrated, which is, that water routes are the great regulators on rates of freight.

The following shows the total number of tons of property received by canal since 1853, together with the estimated valuation thereof:

	Tons.	Value.
1853.	438,796	$61,612,102
1854.	380,772	77,035,271
1855.	404,108	87,856,037
1856.	375,804	72,088,746
1857.	318,949	46,627,526
1858.	218,566	33,199,903
1859.	249,271	35,700,903

The general features developed by the above statistics are evident. In the article of grain, the short crop has decreased the amount of wheat and corn alone between five and six million bushels. No such quantity of either of these products has sought the seaboard by any other route, and the loss to the canal revenues and our local commerce from this source is attributable only to a failure at the source of supply. The same cannot be said of flour. The decrease in the amount shipped by canal is due only to the competition of the railroads which have carried it below cost, in accordance with their theory that it is better to do business for nothing than to permit its diversion.

Much of the comparatively sustained revenue of the canal office at this port is to be traced to the large increase in the lumber traffic. The Chicago demand has fallen off, canal tolls have been moderately reduced, and the lumber of the upper lakes now seeks the seaboard instead of the prairies. As might have been foreseen, the demand for lumber at the west has been temporary, and will probably never be restored to its inflated condition of 1857 and '58.

Another considerable increase is in coal sent eastward. This is due to the fact that the coal of Western Pennsylvania is coming into use for the manufacture of gas in the Atlantic Cities.

We may presume that this new item of canal trade will continue to increase.

The uncertainties and fluctuations in the relative proportions of canal and railroad traffic indicate that the struggle between these rival powers is nearly equal. In the end, we believe, now as heretofore, that a perfect canal will be able to conquer in the contest. The restrictive legislation of the past winter will only aid and prepare for an event sure to come at last by the natural laws of competition. As the canal has approached completion, we find that one year of time and one foot of added depth has compelled the N. Y. C. R. R. to carry more freight for less money: Another foot, especially if the locks shall be elongated, must close the struggle, and leave the State of New York now as ever the master of the commerce of the West.

The foregoing abstract, compiled from the Annual Reports of the New York Central railroad from 1853 to 1859, inclusive, will show by comparison some very prominent and remarkable features in railway management. The Classification of freight is the same as made by the Canal Department. The report for each fiscal year ends on the 30th day of September. From 1853 to 1855, inclusive, the reports only show the total tons of freight carried of each class, without specifying how much of each class was way, and how much was through freight, or how much was Eastward or Westward bound freight. In all of the reports from 1853 to 1859, only the different classes of freight and the movement in tons, of each class are given, with the exception of 1856, when the quantity of flour carried and many other of the more important articles, were given on page 43 of the Report for that year. There was carried in 1856, 217,654 tons of flour, which being reduced to bbls., calling each bbl. 200 lbs., will equal 2,126,540 bbls. For the year ending 31st December, 1859, there was received at Buffalo by Lake and by the Buffalo and State Line and Lake Huron railroads 1,491,506 bbls. of flour, and of the receipts by lake of 1,420,333 bbls., 535,541 bbls. was consigned to the New York Central, and 52,914 bbls. to the New York & Erie. Of the whole receipts only 220,486 bbls. were shipped hence by Canal.

If, from the receipts of flour at Suspension Bridge and Buffalo there be deducted the Canal Shipments, 220,486 bbls.,—amount in store, Dec. 31st, 65,000 bbls.,—the consumption here, say 100,000 bbls.,—the shipments by the New York & Erie railroad, say estimated 350,000 bbls.,—it will leave upwards of 1,000,000 bbls. that have been carried over the Central from Buffalo and Suspension Bridge for the year 1859.

To give some idea of the traffic in live stock on this road, we give the receipts at Albany for the year ending 31st December, 1858, viz:—130,619 cattle, 162,597 sheep, and 174,619 hogs.

The largest tonnage carried since the consolidation, was in 1857, when the total tonnage was 838,791 tons, from which the road received a gross revenue of $4,559,275 88. In 1859 the tonnage was 834,319 tons, from which the road received a gross revenue of $3,337,148 36. If the tonnage and receipts for 1857 be compared with the tonnage and receipts for 1859, it will be found there is a decrease on tonnage of only 4,472 tons, while the decrease in revenue from freight is $1,222,127 52.

Since 1853 the funded debt of the road has been increased $2,769,737 59, while the construction account has been increased in the same time $7,755,113 71.

If the increase in the capacity of the canal shall be sufficient on the opening of navigation this spring to allow boats drawing 6 feet of water to carry 220 tons, what will be the effect upon the tonnage and revenue of the Central?

In 1857, boats could carry from 130 to 140 tons. In 1859 boats could carry from 160 to 180 tons.—If this increase in tonnage of boats from 1857 to 1859, and a small reduction in tolls, has had the effect to diminish the revenue of the Central $1,222,127 52 from freight alone, what will be the probable effect of a still larger increase in the capacity of boats? If like causes produce like effects, there can be but one answer to these questions. An enlarged canal, with lengthened chambers to the locks, with steam as a motive power for propulsion of boats, will accomplish all that the most sanguine friends of the canals have ever anticipated.

The facts evolved from the foregoing statement show that there has been an increase in the eastward movement from this city by canal of the following classes of articles, as compared with 1858, viz:—

Products of the Forest—Increase	116,677 tons.
Other articles—Increase	29,866 "

There is a decrease in the shipments by canal of the following classes of articles, viz:—

Products of Animals—decrease	9,356 tons.
Vegetable food—decrease	233,242 "
All other agricultural products—decrease	721 "
Manufactures—decrease	8,631 "
Merchandise—decrease	979 "

Total decrease tonnage eastward move't ..	116,956 "
Total decrease of toll received	$167,251 09
The receipt at Buffalo by canal, including all classes of freight, are increased	30,366 "
The increase on merchandise alone is	25,418 "

There should have been more tonnage under head of "Vegetable food," but the low prices by rail induce shipments by rail instead of the canal. In 1858, the lake receipts of flour were 1,536,109 bbls., while the canal shipments were 771,602 bbls. In 1859, the receipts were 1,491,506 bbls., while the shipments by canal were only 220,486 bbls., making a decrease in flour alone of 551,116 bbls.

CANADIAN TRADE.

Last year the balance of trade in favor of Canada was $981,543 in the city of Buffalo alone. During the present year it has increased to $988,774. Nor do these facts present the case in so unfavorable a light as a comprehensive and thoroughly truthful statement demands.

The failure of wheat crops in Canada in 1858 diminished our importations far below their usual amount, until the harvest of 1859 was brought into market, and made us exporters to Canada of wheat and flour during that year to the value $341,643. Under ordinary circumstances, we may expect a deficit of nearly the amount of our exportations of these articles.

Last year we had reason to complain of the increased rates of duty imposed on our manufactures and other productions not enumerated in the Reciprocity Treaty. The policy on which Canada had then entered has been carried out to a yet greater extent during the year just closed. Duties on many articles are now twice as high as in 1854, the year when the treaty was passed—having been increased five per cent. since the date of our last report. The debates in the Canadian Assembly elicited many ill-timed remarks in reference to the commerce of this country with Canada, and under the combined influence of the Grand Trunk Railroad, and narrow and illiberal opinions as to the interests of Lower Canada, the whole legislation of Canada has been framed with a desire to carry her exports through the Province ~~lengthwise~~ and not ~~across~~ it, endeavoring to destroy the profit arising from freight on the Erie Canal and on the Railroads leading eastward from this city, as well as to prohibit our manufactures, and check the trade through the United States in foreign merchandise. The exports to Canada of many manufactures, once important to us, have dwindled away to a nominal amount, and the influence of Canadian legislation will be better shown in future years, as the merchants of that Province bought largely of some articles, so as to have a supply laid in before prices should be raised by the high tariff.

The questions connected with Canada are now of the greatest national importance. Already Canada, less a Province or a Colony in the old sense of the words, than a nation, occupies, in the value of the imports received by the United States from various countries throughout the world, the fifth rank; and the exports sent to her by or through the United States have lately been greater in value than those sent by us to any other country, excepting only England and France. But hitherto our intercourse with this young and rising nation has not met with much consideration, while large sums have annually been spent in costly embassies to countries already less important to us, and incalculably less important in the future which awaits us both.

In calm truth and candor we are led to believe and affirm that no people within the pale of civilization has ever made so unjust and ungenerous a return for a liberal policy, as has been made by Canada to us. The condition of trade shown by the statistics of last year in this district alone, suggests and is proof of our assertion. In our recapitulation it will be seen that we admitted into this district from Canada goods free of duty to no less a value than $1,867,246, and charged duty only on goods to the value of $46,665. In our other statements we give the items constituting these sums and affording in the aggregate this extraordinary comparison. The more the matter is investigated, the worse it seems to be; for $20,980, or nearly half of the articles on which we charged duty, consist of scrap iron, not made, but only worn out in Canada. Scarcely any words can be too strong or harsh to characterize the astounding policy of Canada in return for our commercial friendship. The consideration that the statesmen who framed the Treaty are not the ministers who are the authors of the present tariff, checks unavoidable indignation; but as a nation, our dealings are with nations, and not with individuals. We had intended to adopt towards neighbors, numerically weaker than ourselves, the same policy on which England and France, the two leading nations of the old world, have now begun to enter, to create ties of interest which shall bind together the bad as well as the good, and protecting ourselves by beneficent conduct towards others, render forever impossible the wonderful crimes and follies of less enlightened nations.

The magnitude of the subject for once vindicates a reference to the great principles which are the active machinery of all human prosperity and greatness. We know that the affectation of a desire to trade for the good of others is not a common failing among merchants, but it is only justice to popular sentiment to state that we intended to frame our laws in reference to Canada in such a way as to promote our common interest, for, as between us and them, we believed that "by directing industry in such a manner that its produce would be of the greatest value, men intending only their own gain would in this as in many other cases, be in their daily vocations, led by an invisible hand to promote an end which was no part of their intention!"—

That proposed end was the welfare of both countries.

We return again to our statistics. The following tables have been chiefly compiled from the official records in the Custom House. The trade with Canada has been principally carried on through the Buffalo and Lake Huron Railroad. The traffic of this road has greatly increased during the past year.

GRAIN EXPORTS OF THE LAKE REGIONS.

The impression has gone forth, and within the past two or three months has been the subject of newspaper comment, that Buffalo, as a grain receiving point, has latterly, but more particularly during the last season, fallen into dispute. To disabuse the public mind of this utterly unfounded rumor, we have again taken the trouble to collect the receipts at all the principal grain receiving points, on the lower lakes, or rather from those points which seldom reshipy lake any of the grain that once finds its way to them by this channel, and embody them in a concise and comprehensive table. Our figures, with one exception, are perfectly reliable, having all been obtained from official sources.—Those indicating the receipts at the Western terminus of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad are estimates, based on partial returns, but allowing the receipts at that point to have been twice as large even, as indicated in our estimate, it would vary our final result but a fraction over 4 per cent, and of each receiving point in our list but a fraction over 1 per cent.

We have taken great pains in preparing the following, having carried our decimals to four places. It shows at a glance the relative proportion received at each of the points named:

Of the entire movement of grain, flour reduced to wheat as per our statements above a very material decrease took place in 1859, as the following will show:

Average movement in '816, 1857 and 1858.....	bu 55,560,688
Movement of 1859.....	44,354,225
Decrease.....	11,206,463

The year 1858 stands at the head of the list as regards the total eastward movement, and 1859 consequently shows a falling off, in this line of 15,518,341 bu grain.

STATEMENT showing the total movement of Grain, Eastward Bound, the receipts at Buffalo, and their per centage of the whole movement for four years:

	Total Movement out of the West.	Receipts at Buffalo.	Percentage of Total mov't
1856.....	bu 57,707,760	26,239,791	45.5
1857.....	bu 44,789,851	20,032,689	44.8

1859.....	bu 44,354,225	22,215,426	50.

Here are the figures bearing on this subject. Look at them. They somehow force us to the conclusion that Buffalo, as a grain receiving point, is second to none in the world. It is true, we did not receive as large a quantity of grain in 1859 as in 1858, but will some one inform us what port on the whole chain of lakes HAS received an amount which will bear anything like a comparison with the receipts of that year? No such amount, it will be conceded by all, was grown. While there has been a falling off of 15,518,341 bu in our total receipts, as compared with 1858, we show an increase of 2.9-10 per cent. in the amount which did come forward—a larger increase in percentage than in 1858 over 1857, when we received the fifteen and a half millions as above. The railroads running around us on all sides, the business of which, it is seriously urged by many, will tell to the disadvantage of Buffalo one of these days, have not, therefore, disturbed us in the least, and, as heretofore, we are entirely satisfied, having, as usual, obtained the "lion's share."

There is another idea connected with this subject, to which a brief allusion may appropriately be made. Setting aside the favorable geographical position of Buffalo—her proximity to a nearly enlarged and perfect canal—her advantages as a market—her facility for handling an almost unlimited amount of grain daily, and allowing that our receipts will one day be governed by railway competition alone, we shall still receive the great bulk of breadstuffs annually shipped from the Lake Regions. We assert this because no railroad has yet been able to compete successfully with the New York Central in the carrying trade. That corporation has not been slow to learn that water routes form the most economical channels for the transportation of freight, and it has therefore a line of first class propellers in commission on the lakes, although this has been done, we believe, in violation of its charter. The New York and Erie Company also own a line of propellers, which ply regularly between this and other lake ports during the season of lake navigation, but the former road has the advantage of something like one hundred and fifty miles of water communication on the Hudson River, a facility offered to no other route. It is, therefore, enabled to compete successfully with other roads for the carrying trade, and the higher competition runs, the greater will the aggregate receipts at Buffalo be enhanced.

THE MANUFACTURES OF BUFFALO.

It has been our intention to give in this statement a somewhat detailed report of the Manufactures of Buffalo, with extended notices of prominent concerns. We find ourselves precluded from this, partly by the great length to which our statement has already grown, and still more by the impossibility of a strictly impartial notice of even the leading establishments. Abandoning, therefore, somewhat reluctantly, our original idea, we are compelled to confine ourselves to a few words of comment on the facts exhibited in the table below.

Our list includes 502 manufactories of such considerable size and importance as to be worthy of mentioning. They are scattered in various parts of the city and employ from 10 to 300 hands each; the aggregate number employed being not less than 10,000, and probably considerably more than that. It is safe to say that manufactures now support the greater share of our population; though separating from the general mass these workshops strictly dependent upon local commerce, it will be found that the latter interest is still the most important in the city. Year by year, however, the relative importance of the two is changing. Commerce grows—not decreases—gradually.—Manufactures struggle up to the surface constantly, winning success against disadvantages of much weight. In location, cheapness of real estate, large home market, ready facilities for shipment, available forces to call upon, and convenient use of power, Buffalo has princely inducements to the manufacturer, and only one draw-back exists—the want of banking capital. We have elsewhere alluded to this deficiency, and we need here only repeat that it cannot be supplied by the Utopian plan of banks which will reject the profitable short paper of the wharves for the slow and moderate returns of extended credit; but by a general increase of the aggregate of banking capital, rendering money cheaper and more accessible, changing the relations of demand and supply, and inducing the banks to seek good paper, even at long credits, rather than permit their money to lie idle. Double the banking capital of the town and the result will be that every bank will be compelled by the state of the market to extend the period of credit.

The decline in real estate, which has happened to Buffalo in common with other cities in two years past, is favorable to the location of manufactures. Heretofore, it is undeniably true that the cost of sites has retarded the growth of mechanical enterprise. At the same time another obstacle existed in our heavy local taxation. No city in the land has been so energetic in works of local improvement as ours. These are now finished in advance of our wants. The streets are paved for more than fifty miles; sewers are built, water and gas pipes permeate all sections. All this enormous expense has been incurred, the property benefited has paid for it, but at the same time land has fallen off in value. The manufacturer can now come here from abroad, find all these things ready to his hand, and choose his location at a cheap rate without fear of further local taxation.

LIST OF BUILDINGS CONSTRUCTED IN 1859.

The following statement has been brought to its present condition of accuracy by the utmost care, attended with no small amount of labor. Taking into consideration the obstacles which a seeker after information of this kind is liable to meet with, it is certain that this statement is accurate, and can be relied upon as a fair exhibit of the amount of building done in our city in 1859.

To that class of inhabitants in neighboring cities who affect to believe that Buffalo is at a stand still, the result of our labor must necessarily prove a source of surprise. To those of our own citizens conversant with the subject, it will be viewed with gratification and pride.—Here we have a total number of 233 buildings, erected during the year, costing $639,600. The reason for this is obvious. When have materials been so cheap and labor at such a discount? These influences, combined with many others, have brought on the result we show today. Our monied men, appreciating these facts, and well aware that the time is not far distant when, instead of a surplus of buildings there will be a scarcity—when laborers will be in high demand and building materials equally so—have most judiciously laid out a large amount of money in this way, which, in addition to the fact that it is sure of reaping for them a pecuniary reward, helps to adorn our already beautiful city. It will be seen that the eastern portion of the city has constructed the larger number of buildings, while those on the opposite side are of more value. Eight churches have been erected, at a total cost of $105,200, and in point of size and architectural beauty, they are unsurpassed by any in the western portion of the state.

Many of our citizens have erected beautiful residences, each of which cost a small fortune, and each helping to adorn our streets, and make us still more envied by our sister cities.

During our canvass of the city, we noticed many signs of future activity in the building line, and we can say with certainty that the statement of buildings constructed for 1860, will show a large increase over that of 1859.

A. & J. KEOGH, Piano Forte Manufacturers,

NOS. 257, 259 and 261 WASHINGTON STREET,

Between North and South Division Streets.

The subscribers keep constantly on hand an extensive and choice assortment of Piano Fortes, in elegant Rosewood Cases, which we warrant to be equal in tone, touch and finish, to any manufactured in this country. As a proof of the superiority of our instruments, the subscribers would respectfully call the attention of the public to the subjoined testimonial from Professor Gottschalk (one of the most distinguished pianists in this country), being one of the many they are daily receiving from professors and others, assuring them of the merits of their Pianos. Persons desirous of obtaining a superior instrument are earnestly invited to give us a call. Dealers supplied on liberal terms.

A. & J. KEOGH.

TESTIMONIAL.

SARATOGA, 27th July, 1856.

I was excessively satisfied with the piano which Mr. Richard Owen, of Quebec, was kind enough to lend me for my concert here.

That instrument, of the manufacture of Messrs. A. & J. Keogh, of Buffalo, was one of the most powerful, if not the most powerful, two stringed square Pianos I had ever met with. The tone was full and round, without harshness, and of a remarkable evenness in all its registers. As to its strength, I will merely state the fact that it stood at my concert during two hours, without intermission, under five or six heavy fantasias, and as many small pieces, in a moist and hot atmosphere, without one single string breaking, or the instrument getting out of tune; which is more than I could say of many grand pianos, even of the most eminent makers.

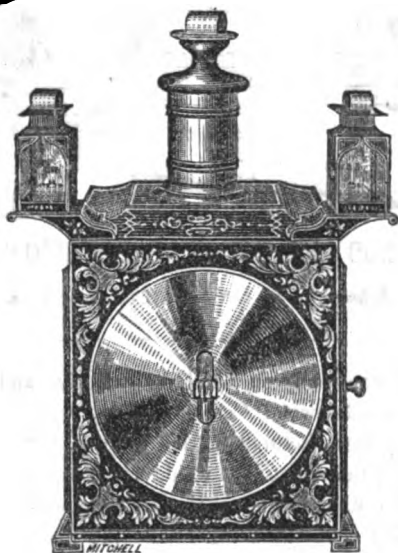

The Messrs. Keogh are personally unknown to me, and this was the first instrument of theirs I had ever performed on; my opinion, therefore, cannot be influenced by partiality. In recommending it, I simply respond to an artistic feeling, and a desire to do justice to manufacturers whose popularity is so well deserved.

Would call the attention of the public to his REVOLVING CLOTHES DRYERS, which possess the following advantages over any other mode of drying clothes. Its rotary motion produces a circulation of air, causing the clothes to dry rapidly, and prevents the liability of their being torn. The labor and time in hanging up the articles to be dried and of taking them down are materially lessened.

It occupies but little space, and may be set up in any yard, however small, without inconvenience. The machine will be found to give entire satisfaction wherever it is used, and no family should be without one.

PHOTOGRAPHS

OF ALL SIZES AND PRICES

PAINTED IN OIL OR WATER COLORS.

ALSO, PICTURES PAINTED FROM LIFE IF PREFERRED.

Photographs executed in India Ink to equal the most finished engraving.
Photographs in India Ink, and beautifully tinted in Water Colors.
Photographs painted on Canvas, either Cabinet or Life Size.

These pictures surpass any other portrait ever produced, both in point of finish as well as in truthfulness to nature. Portraits produced by the Photographic process do away entirely with those long and tedious settings which are so much dreaded in obtaining a likeness by the old method, and securing at the same time a more perfect picture.

Persons residing at a distance, having pictures, either of living or deceased friends, can have a perfect Life-size Photograph painted in oil on canvas, by sending the picture with a description of the person, giving the general complexion, color of the eyes and hair. By the Photographic process, there is no possibility of a failure in reproducing a perfect fac-simile of the original picture, no matter how small.

From my long experience in this line of portraiture, I feel confidence in saying to the public that in case of any picture failing to give satisfaction, I alone will be the loser.

The public generally suppose that a Photograph is different from the old style of oil painting,—this is not the case; the "Photograph assists the artist in preserving the features," thereby rendering a failure impossible, and the picture equals, if not exceeds, those produced by the old method.

The pictures produced at this Gallery are pronounced by connoisseurs in the art, to be superior to any in this State.

PHOTOGRAPHS COLORED IN OIL CONSIDERED THE ULTIMATUM OF PORTRAITURE!

Superior Ambrotypes taken at this gallery, in Cases, from 50 Cents to 12 Dollars.

Pictures taken in cloudy as well as in clear weather.

CLAPP, MATTHEWS & CO.'S STEAM PRINTING HOUSE

OFFICE OF THE MORNING EXPRESS, - BUFFALO, N. Y.

WE would avail ourselves of this opportunity to express our grateful sense of the liberal patronage extended to us for many past years, and to assure our friends that we shall neglect no means to merit a continuance of their favors. By adding to our establishment every facility that can tend to satisfy the wants of our business, and the taste of our customers—by fair and liberal dealings, and prompt attention—we shall try to deserve, and hope to receive, increased marks of the confidence of the public.

ILLUMINATED SHOW CARDS.

We are prepared to execute every variety of large and small Show Cards in Colors, with the most attractive designs and styles. This department of our business has been largely patronized by most of the principal Railway Companies in the country, to whose Bulletin Boards we refer for the quality of our work. All kinds of RAILWAY PRINTING receive special attention, and our prices are as low as the style of work will warrant.

BOOK AND PAMPHLET WORK.

We have such facilities as enable us to produce, with unusual dispatch, and in the best manner, works of any ordinary magnitude; and we aim to preserve a neat and tasty uniformity in the different styles of Pamphlet Printing. LAW CASES, POINTS, and other Legal Work done promptly and well.

RULING AND BLANK WORK.

Connected with our establishment is a well appointed Bindery and Blank Book Manufactory, conducted by one of the best workmen in the State, which enables us to produce Blank Work, such as Ledgers, Journals and other Books, Shipping Bills, Way-Bills, Reports, Ticket Books, Bill Heads, and in fact every article in that line used by Railway, Transportation, Insurance, Banking and other Companies, Shipping Merchants and others, in a style equal to, and for prices as reasonable, as any other establishment in the country. Keeping a very large stock of the choicest qualities of Blank Book Papers of all sizes on hand, most of which are made to our own order expressly for first-class trade, we have no hesitation in warranting our work to give perfect satisfaction.

GENERAL JOB PRINTING.

Whilst the resources of our establishment give us unusual facilities for the production of Large Jobs of whatever nature, we do not intend to neglect the less important class of work, such as Circulars, Business Cards, Bill Heads, Hand Bills, Posters, Programmes, Tickets, etc., etc., in the execution of which we use the same care and regard for neatness, which characterize our large work. In fact we can produce anything in the line of Printing and Blank Book Binding, as well, as quickly, and as cheaply, as it can be done elsewhere, and we solicit the patronage of the public.
